KILLS RACE GAMBLING; FAINTS

Senator Foelker, Near Death, Casts Deciding Vote for Anti-Betting Bill at Albany—Kidnapping Plot Foiled.

By Boston American Leased Wire.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 11.—The Agnew-Hart anti-race gambling bill was passed this afternoon in the Senate by a vote of 26 to 25 amid the most dramatic and sensational circumstances, the sick and suffering Senator Foelker fainting in his chair after casting the vote that broke the tie and saved the day.

The bill sounds the knell of race track betting in this State and makes it a prison offence.

Senator Foelker had heroically arisen from a sick bed and traveled all the way from his home in Staatsburg to carry the measure put through by Governor Hughes, but he did it at the risk of his life. An attempt was made to kidnap him at the eleventh hour, and the racing advocates tried to talk until he collapsed.

The crowds in the galleries were breathless as they saw him helped to Senator Alld's seat, No. 27, and his suffering was evidently terrible, for his breath came in great, labored, audible gasps.

FOELKER COLLAPSES.

Nerved for the occasion, his will held till the crucial moment. He tottered and swayed as he stood on his feet to answer the call of his name, and when he responded "Aye" he sank back in the seat in a collapse, physicians rushing to his side to administer restoratives.

Thus ended the famous campaign against the monopoly gamblers, who in their effort to control all gambling in the State shut off all the smaller pool sellers. Governor Hughes whipped into line the members of the Senate who in his previous efforts to secure a vote defied him.

The scene was by far the most impressive and exciting ever witnessed in the famous Senate chamber. On the brows of the Senators stood out great beads of sweat as the last roll call was started. One could have heard the drop of a pin. Each answer to the call rang like a shout through the chamber, notwithstanding that the tension had a tendency to subdue the voices of the solons.

After Senator Foelker had cast his vote those who had fought so valiantly for the racetrack interests knew that the game was lost. They looked at each other, looked at their leaders, then looked at the floor. Their breath came hard and fast, and, no doubt, they began to think of the future—of what effect their support of public gambling would have in their districts, for it has been predicted that every man who voted and held out for gambling was trifling with the alternative of political oblivion.

KIDNAP PLOT FOILED.

Desperate efforts were made to delay Senator Foelker's appearance at the Capitol, and had it not been for the alertness of his numerous friends the vote might have been different. While Dr. Murphy, Foelker's physician, and Canon Chase of Brooklyn were away from his house, three men drove up in an automobile. One, representing himself as a doctor, gained entrance to Foelker's room and said he had been sent to convey the sick man to the Capitol. The nurse, suspecting a plot to kidnap him, declared that Foelker would not leave unless accompanied by his physician and Canon Chase.

While the argument was on, both Chase and Murphy entered the room and ordered the "doctor" out. He and the others fled in the automobile.

Foelker was seated near the door in order to give plenty of air and as he appeared to weaken, various amendments were offered to the penal code bill in the hope of tiring him out. The first test vote came on the Grady amendment, and when it was defeated by a vote of 26 to 25 the final result was no longer in doubt. Foelker and Wallace, the new senator from the 47th District, with the old 24, who voted for the bills at the regular session, voting against the amendment. Other amendments met a like fate and the out way put on final passage.

When the roll was called Foelker sunk listlessly in his chair and caused considerable alarm for his friends. Then Senator Conalan rose to explain his vote and it appeared that if he talked much Foelker would faint. Hughes men had him called to order when his time expired and when he asked unanimous consent to continue President pro tem Raines, who said he did it in the "interest of humanity" objected and he subsided.

Other senators who intended to explain their vote took the cue and contented themselves with voting.

After Foelker had voted on the first bill he was taken to Lieutenant-Governor Chanler's room, where he rested until the roll was called on the Percy-Gray amendment.

After the second roll call, he was led from the chamber and returned to his home.

Following the passage of the bills, the Senate adopted a resolution to adjourn without date at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The bills take effect immediately.

HUGHES DEEPLY GRATIFIED.

"I am deeply gratified with the result," said Governor Hughes when told of the passage of the bills. "It is a victory for law and order, the importance of which cannot be overestimated."

Concerning Foelker's appearance, Governor Hughes said:

"The act of Senator Foelker in coming to the Senate in such a weak condition was most heroic and worthy of the same praise that we give to distinguished service on the battlefield."

How completely the bill kills racing can be understood by this summed-up provision:

"The bill makes it a felony punishable by one year's imprisonment, without the option of fine, for anyone detected gambling and proved to have violated the law."

NEWS FLASHED TO HUGHES.

A watcher, especially instructed, flashed the news to Governor Hughes, who awaited the result with the anxiety of a man who was about to be declared unpowerful as a Governor, or capable of leading his party in the State. Dozens of wires all flashed the intelligence to New York where the race track magnates were awaiting the vote.

Every available space in the Senate galleries was filled. It was agreed that Senators Grady and Cassidy should do the debating. Grady in the course of his half-hour talk waded into the Legislature and he gave practically the same speech as on the day when the bills came up. Senator Cassidy was scheduled to occupy the time up to noon, when the vote was to be taken. In order that the vote should be taken at noon the big clock in the Senate was stopped at 10:30 o'clock.

Senator Grady moved his amendment to have the bills take effect at the end of the racing season, but it was defeated. This was the test.

Senator Grady moved another amendment, changing the penalty to $500, but this was defeated by the same vote. Then he tried to have Wall street gambling included in the gambling category, but this was likewise defeated by the same vote, 26 to 25.

At the request of Lieutenant-Governor Chanler the Senators were asked to refrain from making any demonstration when Senator Foelker entered the Senate Chamber. Those in the galleries were warned that if there was any demonstration there everyone would be sent out. Senator Foelker sat down in Senator Allds's seat, No. 27. He was seen to be suffering agony, for every breath was a gasp.

TAFT'S NOMINATION ON 1ST BALLOT MADE SURE

SECRETARY GIVEN CAROLINA DELEGATES TO-DAY; ALLIES ADMIT DEFEAT.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The Republican National Committee seated the Taft delegates from the first and fifth districts of South Carolina to-day. This places on the temporary roll of the convention enough pledged Taft men to assure the nomination of the war secretary on the first ballot—exactly 491 votes.

Taft is also expected to capture the entire State delegations in Tennessee, Texas and Virginia, which will considerably increase his total.

The allies have given up all hope of saving anything from the wreck.

They will carry out perfunctorily their program of fighting in the national committee on contesting seats, but they admit privately that Taft will be nominated on the first ballot, and that he will have the votes right from the start.

This has revived the talk of a nomination by acclamation. Some of the leaders are said to be looking with favor on the proposition to nominate their "favorite sons," cast their votes for them, and then, before the result of the initial ballot is announced, change their votes to Taft. And this is very likely to be the program.

Cortelyou or Sherman?

The committee will complete its work to-morrow and will recess at once until just before the convention opens next Tuesday. The intervening time will be utilized by the leaders in discussing the platform and the vice-presidential situation.

With their candidate landed, the Taft managers to-day began looking over the available timber for second place on the ticket. To-day Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou and Representative Sherman of New York are the men most mentioned.

It appears to be the concensus of opinion that New York State should be represented on the ticket, and National Committeeman Ward of that State has been quietly informed that if his organization will pick the man he will be named. The Taft men themselves simply say all they will do will be to indicate who they will not stand for.

Friends of former Governor Franklin Murphy of New Jersey and of Governor Guild are working hard to land their man. Murphy is at present running his own campaign, while the Guild interests are in the hands of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. John Hays Hammond, the only self-announced candidate for the Vice-Presidency, will arrive to-morrow.

A Roosevelt Platform.

It is not believed that there will be much of a struggle on the platform question. In making the rough draft of the document the Taft leaders consulted with the allies.

It is a real Roosevelt proposition. Every important policy of the President is indorsed and tariff revision is provided for.

Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor, and the entire executive council of that organization, will arrive here Friday. They come to demand that the convention incorporate in the platform a declaration against the principle of injunction in labor disputes as well as the other "reforms" advocated by the federation.

The injunction proposition is worrying the leaders somewhat. Just how to satisfy Gompers and at the same time not alienate the employers' associations is admittedly a hard task.

A boom has sprung up for Lieutenant-Governor Sherman of Illinois for Vice-President on the Republican ticket. The administration has been searching for a good campaigner to put in second place. Friends of the Illinois Sherman are touting him as the hottest campaigner that has developed in the last twenty years and a powerful orator.

AMERICAN LEAGUE BASEBALL GROUNDS, Cleveland, June 11.—The crippled Naps tackled the rejuvenated Red Sox in the third game of the series this afternoon and the locals had no great confidence in their ability to win the battle, especially as Cy Morgan, who has the best record of any of the Boston pitchers this year, was booked to twirl for the visitors.

Just about this time every year, the Clevelands become hopelessly crippled and lose their chance to win an American League pennant. The local fans believe they have the best club in the league and but for injuries would have won the flag several times running.

The latest man to be laid up is George Stovall, who has been hitting the ball hard all the season and whose first base play has ranked with the best in the business. With Stovall, Turner and Flick out of it Cleveland's chances to keep up in the procession look slim.

The Naps are game, however, and they went into the fracas to-day with a resolve to fight it out to the last ditch. The Red Sox, who have their best bats with them, are afraid of no pitcher of the Cleveland staff, unless it be Addie Joss, and they felt sure of winning.

The day was fine for the game and a good sized crowd was out to see the fun.

DECLARES ICE DEAL ILLEGAL

NEW YORK, June 11.—Justice Goff in the Supreme Court gave definite instructions to-day to the grand jury considering the charges against the American Ice Company, that all the contracts entered into by the American Ice Company to purchase the entire output of the smaller dealers were illegal and in direct violation of Section 696 of the Penal Code.

KILL PLAN FOR SIX RECESS COMMITTEES

As a result of the opposition of Junius T. Auerbach, representing the Independence League, David Eastman, representing the Public Franchise League, Senators Treadway, Spalding and Linehan and Representatives Porter and Lothrop, the joint legislative committee on rules this afternoon voted not to grant the petitions for six recess committees which had been presented.

This is the first time that such petitions have been turned down by the rules committee. The BOSTON AMERICAN has opposed their creation each year. The members of these committees receive $750 each for the Summer's work. The committees asked for this year were Taxation, Public Service, Public Lighting, Street Railways, Agriculture and Shell Fish and Game.

BY DYKE CLARK.

SOUTH END GROUNDS, Boston, June 11.—It was time the Doves started in to head off those Reds in their frantic dash for the high place which the Chicago Cubs have held so long. Besides the Reds had two games already bagged and it didn't look well on paper for the Doves to be taking the short end of the daily arguments considering the star talent which was performing under Joe Kelley's direction.

The Reds, flushed with the pride of continuous wins, thought nothing of lashing the Doves in another conflict, which had the effect to arouse the home crowd to fight bitterly before succumbing to a team which a few weeks ago was rated among the tailenders, but was now sailing under false colors up next the head of the list.

The series showed that the Reds were edged up to the highest pitch, being driven on by John Ganzel's frenzied appeals to keep the pace hot and they were sooner or later bound to blow up from the terrific gait they were travelling.

With only the difference of a game to make them tied with the leaders the Reds wanted the third contest worse than ever and the incentive was worth working for.

With some of the torridness out of the air the diamond tossers felt their oats and were inclined to scratch gravel from the time the bell rang.

The visitors were better off in their pitchers as they had a few good ones left to try on the Doves, while Kelley had used up two of his veterans in trying to stop the Reds.

Coakley, the ex-Holy Cross-Athletics pitcher, looked good, and Campbell, one of the best of the youngster crop of slingers, was also in form.

Boultes, who showed well against the Cubs, was anxious to try his hand and Kelley had him get ready.

BLIND PUPILS GUESTS OF AUTO MEN AT PICNIC

One Hundred Inmates of Perkins Institute Make Merry at Lake Massapoag.

GO IN 30 BIG TOURING CARS

Nearly 100 little inmates of the Perkins Institute for the Blind, in South Boston, and a like number from the kindergarten department in Jamaica Plain, are making merry this afternoon on the west shore of Lake Massapoag, at Sharon, as guests of the Automobile Dealers' Association of Boston.

In thirty mammoth touring cars, donated by members of the association, they left Copley square this morning at 11 o'clock under Chester I. Campbell, master of ceremonies of the day.

At Lake Massapoag there was no end to the sports that had been arranged. There was boating and bathing, the big merry-go-round and dozens of other things. Best of all was the sumptuous repast the children, their attendants and the automobile men sat down to at 1:30 o'clock in the Lakeshore House, as guests of Dr. M. R. Deming. After the banquet came a concert.

Miss Bennett, principal of the institute, went along on the trip to see that every child had his or her share of the fun. The teachers present included the Misses Lillie, Marret, Locke, Smith, Cole, Davies, Knowlton, Hopkins, Stevens, Robbins, Sawyer, Hoxie, Riley and Hangrin.

The following members of the Automobile Association very generously donated machines:

O'BRIEN DENIES WIFE'S CHARGES IN DIVORCE SUIT

David O'Brien of No. 30 Common street, to-day in Suffolk County Divorce Court, denied many of the charges made against him by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth A. O'Brien of No. 32 Wellington street, who is suing for divorce and naming Miss Gertrude Lang of Ashmont.

Mr. O'Brien said: "I have known Miss Lang for nearly two years. She is a musician—that's how I came to meet her. She loves music, so do I. I liked her and have been at her home many times.

"When I first married, my wife spent about half of her time away from home. Later she spent nearly all of her time away. She would often remain away two or three days at a time."

Mrs. Matilda M. Snyder, who lived in the same house with the O'Briens in Jamaica Plain, testified that Mrs. O'Brien once told her that Mr. O'Brien was not Bohemian enough. She testified:

"I have seen Chester Tilden call at her house. Mrs. O'Brien once told me Tilden would provide the necessary funds with which she could engage in business if she left her husband."

GROCER FINED.

In the South Boston Municipal Court today before Judge Joseph D. Fallon, John Hermedinger, a grocer, whose store is at No. 343 Broadway, South Boston, was fined $10 on a charge of giving false measure. He paid.

HOUSE PREPARES TO KILL THE MERGER BILL

ANTI-MELLEN LEADERS DECIDE TO DODGE CONFERENCE WITH SENATE.

To avoid a long-drawn-out controversy with the State Senate, dodge a Committee of Conference, which might tie up the Legislature for weeks, and to get away from Beacon Hill this week, the anti-mergerites in the House of Representatives prepared to-day to kill the anti-merger bill on its next appearance among them.

The merger bill so amended that it is now anti-merger, telling the New Haven to sell its Boston & Maine stock where the original bill said "hold" came out of the Committee on Bills on Third Reading just before the close of to-day's first session.

The bill took its place in the orders of the day. Late in the afternoon it was said that a special vote might place it at the top of the list.

Notwithstanding that the measure has been amended to suit their tastes, Norman White of Brookline, Charles H. Brown of Medford, Robert Luce of Somerville and other anti-mergerites decided in conference to-day that the best thing to be done, from an anti-merger standpoint, will be to kill it dead.

"The thing we have reason to fear most," they said, "is that when this amended bill gets over to the Senate some slick gentleman will have substituted for it and for the merger bill another little merger bill with a sugar coating. In the meantime they will seek to convince some of our supporters that this 'substitute' bill is really anti-merger.

"Delays are dangerous, and it was the consensus of opinion in to-day's conference of anti-mergerites that the best thing possible is to kill the bill when it comes up in the House to be engrossed."

House Chairman Joseph Walker of the Committee on Railroads, meanwhile, was prepared to move that the White-Brown amendments be stricken from the bill. The mergerites really have little confidence in the success of that motion.

ANNA HANLEY BECOMES WIFE OF COMPOSER

Married to Lawrence O'Connor in Mission Church at Altar Given by Father.

Lawrence B. O'Connor, the well-known pianist and musical composer, and Miss Anna C. Hanley, daughter of the late Colonel Hanley of No. 1456 Tremont street, were married at 9 o'clock to-day in the Mission Church, Tremont street, Roxbury, in the presence of more than 100 intimate friends.

Because of the recent death of the bride's brother, Henry Hanley, a surveyor for the city, the nuptial mass was a low one and the ceremony extremely simple.

Before the beautiful shrine of Our Lady of Perpetual Help the wedding ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. James Hayes, the rector. This shrine was years ago presented to the church by Colonel Hanley, and since its installation every member of his family to wed has been married in front of this altar.

The best man was Paul O'Connor, brother of the bridegroom, and the bridesmaid was Ella Hanley, sister of the bride. The ushers were Frederick O'Connor, Joseph O'Connor and Captain Matthew J. Devinney.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of pure white, trimmed with rare Irish point lace with a long veil.

Following the ceremony the couple were driven to the bride's home, No. 1,456 Tremont street, where a reception and wedding breakfast followed.

At 11 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor left Boston on a wedding tour of several weeks, which will include many Southern cities. After they return to Boston they will reside in Roxbury.

MRS. D. A. SHELDON IS BURIED HREE

Mrs. Della A. Sheldon, widow of James E. Sheldon and daughter of the late Daniel Simpson, died a few days since in her eighty-first year and funeral services in Forest Hills were conducted by the Rev. Dr. James DeNormandie, pastor of the First Religious Society of Roxbury, yesterday. For five years past Mrs. Sheldon had made her home in Pelham Manor, New York. Her five grandsons were pallbearers. Two daughters, Mrs. Asa P. Potter and Mrs. Torrey E. Wardner, survive her.

PRIEST HEADS LAST EFFORT TO SAVE BILLEK

Mass Meetings Held in Chicago in Behalf of Doomed Necromancer.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The most remarkable demonstration in behalf of a man condemned to die on the gallows began to-day when a series of meetings throughout the city was begun to arouse public sentiment in favor of Herman Billek, necromancer, sentenced to be hanged to-morrow for the poisoning of six persons.

Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan, who has fought for Billek's life for months, is the principal speaker at these meetings. It is the priest's purpose so to arouse public sentiment that Governor Dineen's office will be flooded with telegrams and letters demanding that the chief executive exercise clemency.

Father O'Callaghan to-day mailed to Governor Dineen a petition signed by 15,000 persons urging the Governor to commute Billek's sentence to life imprisonment.

While Father O'Callaghan was at work Billek's legal friends here and at Springfield were also fighting hard. To-day Federal Judge Landis will pass on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

It is generally believed that it will be refused. At the same time the State Supreme court to-day refused the petition filed yesterday to vacate its action affirming the action of the lower court and praying leave to go before the criminal court in this city and ask for a new trial.

In the event that Judge Landis refuses a writ, it is believed a hasty appeal to the United States Supreme Court will be taken.

Jailor Davis said to-day that while Billek has given up hope, he does not appear to be worried and slept well last night.

REGULARS AND MILITIAMEN IN BIG WAR GAME

NEW YORK, June 11.—Confident of breaking all records for the distance, Captain W. T. Johnson, aide-de-camp to Major-General Frederick D. Grant, accompanied by Colonel Edward N. Glenn and Major Charles G. Woodruff, sanitary officer of the army, left this city at 8 a. m. to-day in an automobile for Watertown, N. Y., where 10,000 men of the regular army and militia of various states will participate in the war manoeuvres beginning June 17. Colonel Glenn will act as chief umpire of the war game.

A large crowd gathered at the Battery to see the start. The progress of the car is being timed by automobile clubs and volunteer clockers.

Within the next two or three days 5,000 regulars in the Department of the East will leave their posts for the march to Pine Plains, six miles from Watertown, where the manoeuvres are to be held. The 5,000 militiamen who are to take part with the regulars will come from every State along the Atlantic coast.

The war game will be played on a most extensive scale. Congress has appropriated $1,000,000 for the manoeuvres, and everything that goes to make up real war will be present, except the use of bullets.

BULLET FAILS TO HALT GANG OF BURGLARS

Police Discover Three Breaks at Stores Early To-day at Chelsea.

TRY TO ENTER DWELLING

A gang of burglars is to-day being sought by the police of Chelsea. Early to-day three stores were broken into and the robbers tried to break into a private dwelling. In each instance they failed to secure any booty, probably being scared away from each place. They were finally discovered and fled under fire from a policeman's revolver.

Policeman Spinney, of the Chelsea force, was on his way home when he saw three young men acting suspiciously at the corner of Broadway and Eleanor street. As the policeman approached the trio broke and fled down Broadway toward Revere, followed by the officer. The men turned into Webster street and Policeman Spinney fired a shot at them just as they disappeared in the Boston & Maine freight yards at Eastern avenue.

Spinney went back to Broadway and Eleanor street and found that the variety store of John G. Boardman, No. 800 Broadway, had been broken into through a rear window.

Then Spinney called for other policemen and the freight yard whither the men had fled was searched, but no trace of the burglars was found.

Patrolman Bartlett, while on his route, later found that Fitzgerald & Company's saloon at No. 907 Broadway had been entered. A cash register had been forced, but an employe of the place who was called declared that it had contained no money.

Then Bartley discovered that the drug store of Frank M. Frost, No. 905 Broadway, had been broken into in the same manner, but the thieves had evidently been frightened away before obtaining anything.

William Acres, who lives at No. 933 Broadway, came to police headquarters today and said that on the last two mornings a man had tried to open the back door of his house. It was about 3 o'clock each time. Acres drove the man away on both occasions.

M'ETTRICK ANGERED BY GALLOND

Senator M. J. McEttrick of Boston arose in the Senate to-day to find fault with an appropriation of $170,800 for the State School for the Feeble Minded at Wrentham. He was saying that nobody begrudged a necessary dollar to any such institution, but characterizing this as gross and reckless extravagance, when Senator George J. Gallond arose as if to ask a question.

Gallond represents the Committee on Public Charities, which supports the $170,800 recommendation.

"Will the gentleman yield?" he asked.

"With pleasure," replied McEttrick.

Then, to the amazement of everybody, Gallond moved that the Senate "adjourn."

"I protest! Mr. President," yelled McEttrick. "This is discourteous; this is cowardly. I supposed that the member had a question to ask."

Acting President Morse—A motion to adjourn is not debatable.

McEttrick—I understand that, Mr. President; but nevertheless I wish to enter my protest against such treatment.

The Chair—When the gentleman "yields" the floor, he yields it for all time and to any purpose.

McEttrick—That, too, is quite true, Mr. President, but when I yielded the floor to a gentleman, I supposed I was yielding it to a gentleman.

The Senate refused to adjourn at that time. The Wrentham bill went over until another sitting.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE, BUT ALL ESCAPE

Several members of the Cambridge city government received a severe shaking up to-day and not a little fright when one of the automobiles used to transport the Cambridge water board, the aldermen and the common councilmen on their annual tour of inspection of the city's water plant overturned in Massachusetts avenue while trying to get out of the way of a trolley car.

Fortunately not a member of the party in the automobile, which turned turtle after skidding on wet rails, was badly injured. After a time the machine was righted and the party resumed the trip.

In the ill-fated machine were John McDuffie, clerk of committees; City Engineer Lewis M. Hastings; Alderman Jeremiah F. Downey of Ward 3, and Nelson C. Metcalf, a Boston newspaper man.

DEER CHASE IN STREETS OF CAMBRIDGE

Terrified Animal Dives Through Windows and Is Finally Caught in Cellar.

UPSETS A PRINT SHOP

Amid the clatter and the clanging of trolley gongs, there suddenly trotted peacefully into Central square, Cambridge, today, a stranger to civilization and a denizen of the quiet forests in the form of a handsome deer.

With a fine set of antlers towering above its head, the unusual visitor came rapidly down Prospect street and into the square without the least sign of fear; but when scores of men and boys flocked toward the deer it hurriedly turned about and galloped back up Prospect street.

The unusual occurrence attracted a large crowd, and over 100 persons chased the animal through the street. At the corner of Prospect and Austin streets the creature leaped through the plate glass window of J. Frank Facey's printing shop.

Uninjured, save for a few slight cuts, the deer dashed through several rooms and into the composing room, where it escaped again through an open door. Down Prospect street again and through a number of alleys rushed the terrified beast, still pursued by the shouting men and boys.

Over fences it leaped and through lawns and gardens it plunged, until it came to the house at No. 95 Austin street. Here it took a flying leap through a basement window, plunging into the cellar and falling exhausted.

The police were notified and tied the creature to a post in the cellar. The deer is believed to have strayed from the Middlesex Fells, six miles away, and the State game wardens will be notified of its capture.

KONENKAMP NEW CHIEF OF TELEGRAPHERS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 11.—The Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America has elected S. J. Konenkamp as national president, Wesley Russell as general secretary-treasurer and a general executive board of five, consisting of Hill of Toronto, Towne of Buffalo, Finnin of St. Louis, Worth of Denver and Percy Thomas of New York.

The next biennial convention will be held in Atlanta.

Konenkamp has been chairman of the general executive board and long a labor leader. Percy Thomas is president of the New York local.

FURNITURE CLUB MEETING.

The Furniture Club of the Henry Siegel Co. held its monthly meeting in a novel manner, arranging for a special car to carry them to the Country Club, beyond South Framingham, there dining and holding the session. They returned to Boston about midnight. The general subject of discussion for the evening was the improvement of the bedding department.

5 FAIR MAIDS CROSS SEAS TO WED IN BOSTON

Arrive on Ivernia After Eventful Voyage Across Atlantic on Big Liner.

NOTED BRITISHERS HERE

Five brides-elect arrived in Boston today in the second cabin of the Cunard liner Ivernia and were met at the pier by fiances who were also from old England and had come here long before to gain a start in the "new world" and had prospered enough to send word to girls at home to come over and get married.

The second cabin, in fact, was wreathed in romance on this voyage. The brides-elect were very pretty and became very chummy. They are Miss Elizabeth Grammer of Canterbury, whose fiance is Arthur Lethbridge of No. 54 South street, Boston; Miss Emily Jones of Exmouth, whose sweetheart is George Sullivan of Quincy; Miss Anna Maria Wilkinson of Huddersfield, who crossed the sea to wed George Armitage of Methuen; Miss Catherine Cornish of Pensance, who plighted troth with W. H. J. Mildren of Orange, and Miss Grace Porter of Edinburgh, affianced to John Benner of Revere Beach. These brave British lassies disembarked with glowing cheeks and happy hearts on one of the rarest of June mornings.

Sight Giant Iceberg.

They had a very interesting voyage across the Atlantic. While the stout ship was on the Grand Banks on Sunday last they saw a huge iceberg, 600 feet long and 100 feet high, with spires, crags, domes and buttresses done by nature in Arctic ice, disintergrate in the warm water of the Gulf Stream and the bright sun of early Summer. The berg was one of the biggest seen in the North Atlantic for years. It was seven miles away, but between it and the ship the water was strewn with drift ice formed near the North Pole and which had fallen from the summit and cliffs of the berg when it began to go to pieces. It was a spectacle which awed and fascinated the officers, crew and the 674 passengers who made the crossing on the Ivernia.

Another unusual incident of this voyage came yesterday when for eighteen hours the ship steamed through a dense, low-lying fog bank. While passengers and crew upon deck could not see forty feet ahead, officers on the bridge could see over the fog and were themselves basking in sunshine. The fog lay upon the face of the water like a vast thin blanket of mist.

Sunday School Workers.

Among the passengers were the British committee to the International Sunday School Convention, to be held in Louisville, Ky., on June 18, consisting of three delegates, Charles Waters, founder of the International Bible Reading Association, which has 1,000,000 members; Rev. Frank Johnson, editor of the Sunday School Chronicle and the Christian Outlook, and Frederick Taylor, secretary of the Friend's Sunday School Association. All are from London.

Among the passengers who reside in this vicinity were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Williams of Newton, Mrs. Ogden Codman of Lincoln, Mass., and two daughters and two sons, and Mrs. James E. Gardner and daughter of Cambridge.

PROF. SINCLAIR LEAVES TECH

WORCESTER, June 11.—The retirement of Professor John E. Sinclair, senior member of the faculty of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, was announced today by Congressman Charles G. Washburn at the thirty-eighth annual commencement exercises of the institute in Tuckerman Hall. Professor Sinclair has been connected with the college since its foundation.

Seventy-one students received the degree of bachelor of science and sixteen received advanced degrees in mechanical, civil and electrical engineering. Six men received special honors.

In an address by Mayor Logan on "Changing Industrial Conditions," he declared that Rockefeller and Carnegie had done a great deal for the country but would not be appreciated for years to come.

PROBE STRANGE DEATH OF SWAMPSCOTT MAN

EXPIRED SUDDENLY AFTER SUPPER; DAUGHTERS DEMAND INQUIRY.

SWAMPSCOTT, June 11.—Facts of a sensational character not yet disclosed have been unearthed by Chief of Police Corson in connection with his investigation of the mysterious death of Amasa Lombard, which followed a late supper at his home on Tuesday evening.

Food partaken of by Lombard and the vital organs of his body are being examined for poison at the Harvard Medical School. The investigation is being pressed at the earnest behest of the two daughters of the dead man.

Chief Corson made this statement to-day in connection with the case:

"I have visited the Lombard home and have talked with the young widow of the man who died. I took food from the house and have sent it to be analyzed.

To Test Samples of Food.

"I took a sample of whiskey that he had in the house that was used while he was sick, as well as some fish balls that he had to eat earlier in the day. I was unable to get any samples of the food that he ate of shortly before his death.

"His daughter Hazel told me that her father was contemplating getting a divorce from his wife, as he had been to a lawyer to make arrangements to have his store assigned to a friend, so that later it might be turned over to his daughters.

"I have found peculiar circumstances connected with Mr. Lombard's death which at present I am unable to disclose, as the publicity might hurt the case. I shall follow the matter until I hear from the finding of the chemist."

An autopsy was performed on the body of the dead man at the solicitation of his two daughters and some of the neighbors. Medical Examiner Pinkham could not tell from this the cause of death. He sent the vital organs to Harvard Medical School for analysis.

Chief Corson took the mystery in hand personally after a conference lasting several hours with Miss Hazel Lombard, the eldest daughter of the dead man. Hazel and her sister, Marie, live at No. 44 Melvin avenue. Lombard and his second wife, with whom his daughters could not get on, lived at No. 13 Ray street.

Widow Refuses to Discuss Case.

When a reporter of the BOSTON AMERICAN called at the Lombard house he was able to see the widow for a moment only. She was very angry because of the publicity that had been given to the case and refused to discuss it.

Hazel and Marie Lombard are respectively twenty-one and sixteen years of age. The former is employed in a factory in Lynn, and the latter is attending a commercial school in Boston. The sudden death of their father came as a great shock to them, as, they declare, they had no knowledge that anything of a serious character was the matter with him.

The circumstances of their father's second marriage two years ago to Miss Marie Winchester, a stitcher in a shoe factory in Lynn; their disagreement with her, which culminated in their leaving home later, and other incidents of the new family life, have been rehearsed to Chief of Police Corson by Miss Hazel Lombard.

Contemplated Divorce.

Among other things that the police have learned, they say, is that Lombard feared violence. It is also asserted that he contemplated divorce proceedings. To the AMERICAN to-day Medical Examiner Pinkham made this statement:

"I performed the autopsy on the body of Lombard at the request of his daughters, Hazel and Mildred, and also at the request of the neighbors in the vicinity of his home.

"I found that the autopsy did not show the primary cause of his death, and, therefore, it was necessary for me to send the stomach to a chemist for analysis. I will not be able to hear from the analysis until a week or ten days from now. Chief Corson of the Swampscott police is investigating the circumstances of Lombard's death, and will report to me later the result of his findings."

In Usual Health Tuesday.

Lombard ran a small grocery. He appeared in his usual health on Tuesday. He came home from the store shortly after 8 o'clock in the evening supper was served.

Lawrence Colby, who lives in the flat over the Lombards, and whom Mrs. Lombard summoned when her husband was taken sick, says that Lombard was in terrible agony. He implored Mrs. Lombard, Colby and some neighbors who ran in at hearing his cries to help him, saying:

"Don't let me die; I'm not ready to die yet," and "I want to get my affairs fixed up before I die." Dr. Loring Grimes, who was summoned, did not arrive till after Lombard's death.

The two daughters, who do not live far from the house, heard of their father's sickness and hurried to his bedside. He was dead when they arrived. They entered the house, but say that when Mrs. Lombard saw them she exclaimed:

"Are those the Lombard girls? I don't want to see them," and closed the folding doors in their faces.

What Daughter Says.

Miss Mildred Lombard when seen by a reporter of this newspaper said:

"We cannot understand the sudden death of father. He had nothing the matter with him so far as we knew. He had never complained to us of feeling ill. We asked to have the death investigated. Hazel spent several hours with the police, helping them in every way she could to clear up the matter.

"Hazel and I could not get along at home after father married Miss Winchester, and so we got out. She showed in many ways that she did not like us."

It was with money earned by the girls, it is declared, that Lombard started the store. He had made arrangements, it is stated, to dispose of the store. So far as is known this knowledge had been kept from his wife.

How did she do it? The Jersey Lily tells the secret why she looks even younger than twenty years ago. See the SUNDAY AMERICAN.

TO SAVE PRINTING PLANT $2,000 RENT

In order to save $2,000 a year rent the municipal printing plant will be removed from the Ginn Building on Purchase street in August to a new building at the corner of Causeway and Washington streets. The lease for the new home of the city's plant was signed to-day. Rent at the rate of $5,000 is now paid while the new contract covers a period of five years at a rental of $3,000.

The highest-grade, lowest-priced clothing that bears the union label is Morse-made.

If it's correct, it's at Morse's.
If it's at Morse's, it's correct.

Have as many summer suits as you wish, but don't make the mistake of trying to get along without a blue serge.

If you want to uphold your reputation of being a well-dressed man you must have a blue serge suit.

But here's a pointer.

When you get your serge suit be careful. Just because serge is so popular, its excellent reputation is sometimes made to suffer from worthless productions presented to the public. The deceptive attractiveness of an abnormally low price conceals the imperfections of these pretenders for the time being, but the test of wear tells the story.

Morse-Made Blue Serges are Guaranteed Serges.

They will not fade, pucker at the seams, shrink, or prove faithless to your trust in them in any way.

Prices, $12 to $30, in single and double breasted styles—smooth and rough finish. All sizes in "regulars," "stouts" and "longs." Young men's sizes up to 34 inches, chest measure, $10 to $20.

We've just made some plain and striped white worsted and flannel trousers that are exceedingly effective with a blue serge coat. Prices $5 and $6.

DECIDED GAINS FOR HEARST IN VOTE RECOUNT

Increase of 123 in 99 Boxes Gives McClellan Attorneys Scare.

FIGHT OVER EVERY BALLOT

NEW YORK, June 11.—A net gain of three votes was recorded for William Randolph Hearst at the outset of the recount in the Supreme Court to-day. His actual gain was eight votes when the first ballot boxes brought into court to-day were examined, but the usual "void" envelope disclosed votes for McClellan which cut Mr. Hearst's gain down. The first boxes opened were from the nineteenth assembly district.

Decided gains were made by William R. Hearst in three of the five districts recanvassed yesterday in the quo warranto proceedings to test the legality of McClellan's certificate of election as Mayor.

The principal gains were found in the old seventh, sixteenth and seventeenth assembly districts. The total gain for Hearst in the ninety-nine boxes opened was 123. McClellan gained seventy, leaving Hearst a net gain of fifty-three votes on the day.

While the net gain for the day may appear small, it was regarded as significant that as the recount proceeds to uptown Assembly districts, where the ballot boxes were not returned to the police stations until after midnight on November 7, 1905, the gains for Hearst are increasing constantly.

Gains in Every District.

Counsel for McClellan were far less sanguine of the result at the conclusion of the work before Justice Lambert yesterday than they have been during the last few days. They were astonished at the discrepancies discovered in boxes used in the Seventeenth and Sixteenth districts. Hearst made material gains in nearly every election district in these Assembly districts.

As soon as it became apparent that Hearst was increasing his percentage of gains materially, counsel for McClellan resumed their old tactics of fighting stubbornly over every ballot on which they thought there was a possibility of depriving Hearst of a vote.

Fight Over Each Ballot.

They instructed their tally clerks also to watch carefully for ballots marked for Hearst in which voters had made their cross mark in the voting space in front of blank spaces on the Municipal Ownership ticket.

More than a score of these, which were counted by the inspectors of election on election night as valid votes for Hearst, were thrown out yesterday.

ISAAC B. RICH PASSES AWAY

Isaac B. Rich, Boston's oldest and best known theatrical manager, died shortly after 7 o'clock last night at his apartments in the Buckminster Hotel. He had been a sufferer from diabetes for several years and for the past five weeks had been confined to his bed. His advanced age is also thought to have hastened his death.

The surviving family, all living in Boston, include the widow, Mrs. Pauline B. Rich, and five children, Charles J. Rich, Ralph E. Rich, Mrs. Edward E. Rice, Miss Abbie M. Rich and Miss Maude L. Rich.

Mr. Rich was eighty-one years old and had been identified with theatrical interests for more than sixty years. He was manager of the Colonial, Hollis Street and Park Theatres, and had been associated with the management of other Boston playhouses.

FALES ON THE WITNESS STAND ACCUSES SON

SENSATIONAL STATEMENT IN DIVORCE SUIT FOLLOWS YOUNG MAN'S ADMISSION.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 11.—Warren R. Fales, the wealthy Pawtucket manufacturer, on the witness stand in the suit for divorce he has brought against his pretty actress-wife, Catherine Harris Fales, furnished the crowning sensation of the day when, on the stand, he accused his own son, LeRoy, of helping to break up his home.

The case, which was heard yesterday before Judge Sweetland in the Superior Court here, was continued until next Monday. It was replete with surprising developments, begun when the son's deposition, in which he declared his father had accused him justly, and continued when the father himself took the stand and accused his son.

Mr. Fales, his face flushed but otherwise showing little signs of excitement, took the stand as the last witness of the day. He declared that he had always been a good husband and that the pretty wife's charges, countering his own, were unfounded.

Tells Romantic Courtship.

He told of his meeting his wife in New York in 1899 when she was Catherine Harris of the Edna May opera company. He acknowledged the romantic courtship and following her to London to beg her to become his wife. They were married and lived at Babylon, Long Island, until January 14, 1904.

Then he told of the visit to New York in 1903, when he, his wife and LeRoy Fales, the son, then seventeen, saw the yacht races and stopped at the Waldorf-Astoria. He admitted that he had come home intoxicated, but declared that "he was not very drunk." He denied that he had asked friends to visit him at his Babylon place "to drink him under the table."

He declared that his wife's charges that he had been too attentive to her French maid, Martha, while at the Waldorf Astoria during that visit was untrue. He insisted that his wife and his son Le Roy were wrong in their charges concerning him and his housekeeper, Mrs. Minnie Fitts.

Confession From Son.

He then said that he had heard of the friendship between his wife and his son about two months before the couple separated in January of 1904. He had never thought of such a thing before. He testified that his son had written him a letter confessing the episode in the Waldorf Astoria when his father was at the races.

Fales said that with LeRoy he had gone to his wife and in her presence demanded of the boy if the charges were true. The boy, the father said, admitted it, but he said his wife denied the truth of the story. After that interview, Fales said, he had never lived with his wife.

He said that his wife had never accused him of wrong-doing nor of not supporting her sufficiently. After the separation he paid her $50 a month.

Fales denied that he had ever threatened to disinherit LeRoy, or that later he had promised not to disinherit the young man if he would testify against his stepmother in the divorce case. He said he had never written a letter to Agnes Vars asking her to get Mrs. Fales drunk and then to endeavor to have her compromise herself.

MERRY PLAYS AT THEATRES DRAW CROWDS

"Li'l Mose" has proved a great attraction at the Majestic Theatre. It is seldom that a musical play has so many tuneful songs and such variety of action. The dancing girls are one of the features of the show.

Now that Summer days and torrid heat are here the silver cascade at the Bijou Dream looks particularly cool and enticing. This beautiful little palace of entertainment is drawing a large attendance. The programme is excellent.

A great "hook" night at the Palace Theatre is expected to-morrow. It is said that the amateurs who are going to appear will make any audience scream with delight.

There is a tremendous interest shown by women in the sheath gown worn at the Boston Theatre by Miss Gordon in the stock company's adequate production of "La Tosca."

Mlle. Novi is regarded as the most daring of her sex by all who witness at Wonderland her ultra-sensational triple somersault in an automobile.

Norumbega Park is a delightful place for the amusement seeker on a hot afternoon or evening. It is a beautiful scenic resort, besides providing a fine show in the open air theatre. The zoo is also well worth visiting.

There are only three more night and one matinee performances in this city before Chauncey Olcott vacates the Park Theatre stage, where he has delighted big audiences by his singing and his acting as "O'Neill of Derry."

The bill at Keith's this week is of the kind which justifies the reputation of this theatre as a place where women and children are royally entertained. The programme is also very appealing to the masculine taste.

"A Knight for a Day," at the Tremont Theatre, is keeping the house filled. This is the third week of this attraction and it is pleasing the public as much as ever. The "sheath gown" girl has made a hit.

"The Boy Scout," with N. S. Wood as the star, is a strong attraction at the Bowdoin Square Theatre. Next week the bill will be "The Angel of the Mines."

The Hub Theatre holds its own with the theatre public in warm weather as well as in cool. It is advertised widely by the fact that it is a very comfortable place during a warm day or evening.

Paragon Park at Nantasket Beach will open for the season on Saturday. This famous amusement park is reached by a delightful sail down the harbor. All the shows there are new.

One of the best bills in the picture line which have been seen in Boston for months is now at the Star Theatre, and the attractions for next week are said to be just as strong.

The bill at the Scenic Temple this week is considered by the management to be the strongest ever offered at this house. There will be an entire change of attractions next week.

"A Trip to Coontown" by the Sunny South company is a lively show at Austin & Stone's Museum. The bill is strengthened by two stage aggregations, including the Manhattan Girls.

JOHN D. PICKLES NOTED DIVINE PASSES AWAY

Rev. John D. Pickles, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, Lynn, and one of the best-known Methodist clergymen in New England, died to-day in the Union Hospital, Lynn, of acute gastritis, of which he had been gravely ill for some days.

Rev. Mr. Pickles was born in St. Andrews, N. B., fifty years ago. He has, since his ordination to the Methodist ministry, served many congregations in New England, and his different pastorates have all been very successful.

He has been pastor of Methodist churches in Worcester, Boston, South Boston, Lawrence, Quincy, Melrose and Winthrop. For a year or more he was engaged in the work of the Massachusetts Sunday School Association. At the time he determined to engage in this work he was pastor of St. John's Church, South Boston, and he resigned his pulpit for that purpose. Afterward he was appointed pastor at St. Paul's in Lynn, where he continued until his death.

BURGLARS LOOT WOMAN'S STORE

When Mrs. Hugh Gillon, who keeps a small grocery store at No. 81 West Sixth street, South Boston, opened her store today she found that it had been broken into during the night. Five dollars in change had been taken from the cash register and a small quantity of groceries was gone. Entrance had been effected by prying up a bulkhead

DYNAMITE CAR IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, June 11.—Four passengers and the motorman and conductor were injured early this morning when a Cedar avenue street car was wrecked on Murray Hill by what is supposed to have been a charge of dynamite. The car was ascending the hill as it passed over the explosive and was hurled from the tracks. The floor was torn out and the windows shattered. The passengers and crew were cut by glass and bruised by being thrown against the woodwork.

The police believe the dynamiting is an echo of the street car strike, which has not yet officially been declared off.

JURY ACQUITS HITCHCOCK OF GIRL'S CHARGE

After Deliberating Eight Hours Exonerates Him; Actor Must Face Other Indictments.

RELEASED TO-DAY ON BAIL

NEW YORK, June 11.—His bail of $7,500 by Martin Engel of Tammany Hall having been accepted by Justice Goff, Raymond Hitchcock, who was acquitted of attacking Helen von Hagen, left the Tombs to-day at noon. He said he did not believe the charges made in four other indictments pending against him would be pressed and after the statement left with Mrs. Hitchcock and their friends.

"Not guilty!" was the verdict brought in early to-day by the jury after it had deliberated eight hours and twice asked for instructions from the Court. The actor's wife had remained in the court room all night and clung to her husband when the jury filed in. When the verdict was announced, she explained:

"I am so happy—so happy!"

Hitchcock held a short levee after the acquittal and then went to the sheriff's room, where he had a short interview before leaving for the Tombs. When asked what he had to say, the actor said:

"I am satisfied with the verdict. How could I be otherwise? I knew that when a jury heard the true story of the incidents in the room where I took the girls they would acquit me. It has been a bitter experience to me, but I am glad that I have been proved innocent. I am not afraid of the consequences should the District Attorney try me on the other indictments. I can only say that I am glad for my own sake and more glad for the sake of my brave little wife, who has stuck to me so gallantly through it all."

DONALD M. HILL ELECTED.

Donald M. Hill of the law firm of Bingham, Smith & Hill was elected a director of the Exchange Trust Company at a meeting held at the banking rooms.

SECOND GOULD DIVORCE SUIT

By Boston American Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Mrs. Frank Jay Gould has filed papers in the Supreme Court in a suit for separation from her husband, the youngest son of the late Jay Gould, to whom she was wedded in such haste in 1901.

Mrs. Gould revealed this herself just before boarding a train for Philadelphia.

Lawyer Sprague of No. 15 Broad street said that the papers had been served on Mr. Gould at his town house, No. 835 Fifth avenue. Monday he returned from a curise on his yacht Helenita.

Before he left for this cruise it is known that other papers in separation suit had been destroyed and the suit abandoned.

The lawyer remarked that nothing in the papers charged moral turpitude against Mr. Gould.

KNIGHTS PLAN GRAND REUNION

"Embarkation Day," the anniversary of the sailing of Columbus from Spain, Monday, August 3, will be celebrated by the Knights of Columbus of Eastern Massachusetts by a big outing and reunion at Wonderland. The affair will be under the auspices of Boston Chapter, and Chairman James T. Whelan of Cambridge has appointed the following executive committee to take charge:

P. F. Kearns, Mt. Pleasant Council; Charles F. Gavin, Boston Council; Frank J. Christie, Brighton Council; John F. Burke, Mt. Benedict Council; John J. Sheridan, Fitton Council; Francis W. Curry, Jr., Brighton Council; James H. Baldwin, Mt. Vernon Council, and District Deputy Walter A. White of Jamaica Plain Council. Several thousand Knights and friends are expected to be present.

WOMAN STEPS IN TRAIN'S PATH, HURLED IN AIR

Stepping out of the path of an outbound local directly in front of an incoming express making sixty miles an hour, Mrs. Mary Slanth, the mother of four small children, was hurled thirty feet in the air and fatally injured to-day near the Short street crossing of the Boston & Maine railroad, in Cambridge. She died at the Boston Relief Hospital at 1 o'clock.

The horror stricken engineer witnessed the sickening sight of the engine striking the frail woman, and saw her body fall to the ground after flying through the air. He stopped the train only a few rods away, backed to the scene, and Mrs. Slanth was tenderly lifted on a stretcher into the baggage car, the express making a record run into the North Station in the hope of saving her life. In the meantime, railroad employes had telephoned the Relief Hospital for an ambulance, which met the train.

The woman was fifty-four years of age and lived at No. 12 Leighton street.

JAPANESE BURN 16 COREANS TO DEATH

VICTORIA, June 11.—Sixteen Coreans, including an insurgent leader, were burned to death by Japanese troops who surrounded a house in which the insurgents had intrenched themselves, according to advices brought to this port today by incoming steamships from Corea.

How did she do it? The Jersey Lily tells the secret why she looks even younger than twenty years ago. See the SUNDAY AMERICAN.

WAKE UP TO FIND GRANT PERPETUAL

The citizens of Palmer lose.

The Springfield & Eastern Street Railway Company, owned by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, wins.

In spite of the protests of the citizens of Palmer, the Board of Railroad Commissioners this afternoon rendered a decision which grants to the Springfield & Eastern Street Railway Company a perpetual privilege to do a trolley freight and express business through the streets of Palmer. The commission bases its decision on the "common carrier" law enacted last year in which a "joker" mysteriously inserted makes every grant to do a trolley freight and express business a perpetual grant.

The same law also provides that when the Selectmen of a town refuse to grant such privileges an appeal may be taken to the Railroad Commission. The Palmer Selectmen acceded to a five-year grant, but refused a perpetual one. The trolley road appealed.

COMMENCEMENT MAY BE ANDOVER'S LAST

ANDOVER, June 11.—Sadness marked the conferring of four degrees at the centennial commencement of Andover Seminary to-day. It is pretty well settled that the seminary will be removed to Cambridge and affiliated with Harvard and to the throng of graduates in attendance the end of Andover as a separate institution robbed the occasion of its former festivity.

PARK THRONGED TO SEE GIRL'S FEAT OF PERIL

Spectators Gasp at Mme. Novi's Automobile Plunge at Wonderland.

TICKETS IN SUNDAY PAPER

The death-defying automobile feat at Wonderland Park is a magnet. Manager Higgins says it is the greatest park feature he has booked to date. The gate receipts prove it. The manifestations of the daily crowds show it.

Women turn away when Mademoiselle Novi's automobile is released fifty feet in the air to go crashing down and out through space, turning and turning in the air. Monsieur Charles Morreck and his assistant, Jack Henley, conduct the exhibits twice daily.

"It is all a question of adapting mathematics to the forces of gravity and momentum and tampering it with springs, cushions and appliances," said Monsieur Morreck. "We know that it will go, because we have tried it out, perfected it, studied it like schoolboys studying natural philosophy.

Intended to Be Sensational.

"But we admit that it is awful. We intended it for a frightful performance. It is our desire to promote things that no one else can promote. Therein lies success." Continuing, Mr. Morreck said:

"We have been years at this contrivance. Should others try it and fail it would not surprise us nor disturb our future success. This is our pet, and we know it like we know our families."

Every day looks like a holiday at Wonderland Park these days.

Last night the park was filled at 8 o'clock. When the time came for the evening performance of Mademoiselle Novi the management was forced to open the island by the lagoon to accomodate the crowds, and a thousand occupied the circus arena for a close look at the marvelous feat. The big bridge and plank walks are crowded with every act. All the police and extra guards are needed to rope off the spot in the immediate vicinity of the Death Dip and hold back the crowds. The auto act will continue all this week.

Over 4,000 on Thursday.

The SUNDAY AMERICAN Outing Club, with free tickets clipped from last Sunday's AMERICAN, overflowed Wonderland Monday and Tuesday, and "Paradise, the Show Beautiful," was packed to the doors and with signs out, "standing room only," to accomodate the free ticket holders and other patrons.

Over 4,000 SUNDAY AMERICAN free tickets were handled on Tuesday alone. The lesson in this is that holders of free tickets to Wonderland should use them as early as possible so as not to be crowded.

Next Sunday's BOSTON AMERICAN will publish free tickets of general admission to the park and to "Pilgrim's Progress." The park admission gives all a chance to see the great automobile act, creating such an intense stir in Greater Boston. The second coupon is for "Pilgrim's Progress," where you do the wildest and funniest stunts all the way through. They have ghosts, electric devices to make one jump, funny stairways and moving floors until you cannot rest, and all the while the funny Pilgrim clowns and the unearthly siren whistle keep you interested and amused.

Better order the SUNDAY AMERICAN now so as to be sure to get the twenty cents' worth of free tickets to be used next Monday or Tuesday. They are good day or evening.

TIGER DEGREE FOR JAP BARON

PRINCETON, N. J., June 11.—At the 161st annual commencement exercises of Princeton University the degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Baron Takahira, the Japanese ambassador; Professor H. A. Garfield of Princeton, president-elect of Williams College, and Mahlon Pitney, chancellor of New Jersey.

The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon Walford L. Robbins, dean of the General Theological seminary of New York city.

ANOTHER BOOST IN BEEF PRICES

The price of beef to retailers in New England has been raised to fourteen cents, a raise of a cent and a half since Monday, and three and a half cents this week. The retailers have not raised the price yet for they are looking for another advance before the week ends and will then make a new schedul of prices.

The present price is the highest that beef has reached since the big packers' strike of nearly five years ago.

WILL SPEAK TO HUB NEWSBOYS

Word has been received from John E. Gunckel, president of the National Newsboys' Association at Toledo, that he will arrive in Boston early next week to make an address at the newsboys' protective celebration, Bunker Hill day, at the Boston Theatre. Mr. Gunckel was in Boston last December when he made an address before the Twentieth Century Club outlining his work among the newsboys.

Mayor Hibbard has also promised to make an address. Ex-Senator Herbert C. Parsons of Greenfield will talk on patriotic songs. There will also be addresses by S. D. Brooks, superintendent of schools; Alderman L. M. Clark and others.

YOUNG CROKER WEDS RUBBER KING'S NIECE

PROVIDENCE, June 11.—Announcement is made here to-day of the marriage of Richard Croker's son, Richard Croker, Jr., to Miss Mary Brophy, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick T. Banigan of this city. The marriage was the culmination of an intimacy which has lasted since young Croker was a student at Brown University here more than ten years ago.

Though friends were aware that the son of Tammany's famous chieftain continued to pay attention to this girl of his college days, they did not suspect any such developments.

It was announced by Miss Brophy's relatives that the marriage took place yesterday, and in the strictest seclusion, owing to the recent illness of Mr. Banigan. There are people who profess to know that this is not the case.

It is asserted that Vicar-General Doran is authority for the information that the ceremony was performed some days previously. No record of the marriage is on the books of any local Catholic church. Miss Brophy and her relatives are communicants of St. Joseph's parish.

"Dick" Croker came to Brown in the Fall of '96 and remained in college until 1898. The year following his arrival his brother Frank, who was killed three years ago while racing his car at Ormond Beach, Florida, entered school in the class of 1901. Both boys were well acquainted with Miss Brophy.

The new Mrs. Croker is a young woman of striking appearance, always dresses with markedly individual taste. Her age is given as thirty-two years. She has long resided with her aunt, Mrs. Banigan.

Reduce Your Fat

Rengo Rapidly Reduces Excess Fat Without the Aid of Tiresome Exercises or Starvation Diet.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

Rengo will reduce excess fat and build up the strength and health of anyone who eats it regularly for a short time. It is a product of nature, delicious to the taste and safe and harmless in all its properties. It will not injure the digestive organs as so many drugs and medicines do.

Rengo will positively reduce surplus fat rapidly and do so without harm to the subject. It is very palatable and pleasant to eat. It is prepared in a highly concentrated form and is convenient to carry in the pocket so one can have it with him at all times.

Every fat person is a victim of constant, cruel ridicule. Save yourself from humiliation and danger by taking Rengo. Don't wait until you are a disgusting fright.

Eat Rengo Like Fruit or Candy.

Rengo requires no exhausting exercises or starvation dieting to help it out as so many of the so-called fat remedies do. You can go right ahead and attend to your regular daily duties. It compels proper assimilation of the food and sends the food nutriment into the muscles, bones and nerves and builds them up instead of piling it up in the form of excess fat.

There is nothing "just as good" as Rengo. For sale by all druggists at $1.00 per full sized box, or by mail prepaid, by the Rengo Co., 3,212 Rengo Bldg., Detroit, Mich. The company will gladly send you a trial package free by mail, if you write them direct to Detroit; no free packages at drug stores.

For sale in Boston by Jaynes Drug Co., 5 stores; Houghton & Dutton Co., 55 Tremont St.; Henry Siegel Co., Washington and Essex Sts.; Woodward Drug Co., 100 Tremont St.; W. D. Hunt Co., 707 Washington St., 655 Mass. Ave., Cambridge, and 3 Pleasant St., Malden; Lewis & Co., 145 Washington St., and 130 Portland St.

PARAGON PARK, BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER; SEASON OPENS SATURDAY

Circus, Wild Animals, Baby Camel, New Shows, Among Features.

Paragon Park opens Saturday.

Greatly enlarged in its cope and attractiveness, this popular amusement resort is resplendent in new paint, new buildings, added electrical effects, new shows, including the One Ring Circus, Ferari's Animal Exhibit, and the Alligator Farm. Only the best of the old attractions are retained, such as the Human Roulette Wheel and Wild Rides.

Paragon Park will excel all previous seasons in brilliancy and amusement giving power. The Ferari menagerie will be one of its strongest features. This big show has already arrived with its trained jungle denizens, and the animal trainers will make them act at every performance. These animals, especially the tigers and leopards, are not fond of acting, but they have to with Ferari's shows. Living, breathing and mighty cross pictures are formed with the beasts as the components. Occasionally a trainer gets hurt by the animals.

Holy Moses and Family.

Out upon the plank walk will be seen Holy Moses, his wife Bedella, and Sweet Holy Moses. Its pretty had to guess who these are from the names. They are camels, two big ones and a baby. Sweet Holy Moses, the baby, is sweet tempered and likes sweet things, so one needn't be surprised when sitting comfortably munching candy kisses if Sweet Holy Moses sneaks up and steals the package.

He's the only baby camel in captivity hereabout and all agree he's a wonder.

Old pa Holy Moses is a mammoth beast, willing to be ridden all day long and can carry half a ton of humanity on his back at once. Bedelia, the wife and mother, is very amiable and her owners say she can do everything but talk.

Saturday will be opening day. On Sunday, also, the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN will publish coupons so that the Sunday American Outing Club will have a chance on Monday or Tuesday, day or evening, to visit the park and visit thirty cents' worth of attractions free.

Three free tickets will be published. One will be for admission to the park and all its ballyhos, parades, bands and wonders. The second is for the Merry Widow House, where one gets a prize if he catches the widow. The third is for the Human Roulette Wheel where one roars at the funny contortions of the victims whom imagine they can ride the twenty-five-foot wheel.

It stops for them. It is tantalizing, this invitation to ride. Onto the wheel they go, men, women, boys and girls, and the wheel starts.

Round and round it drives, ever faster. Presently the outside passengers feel a call to leave the wheel. They slide off gracefully and look at the others. Faster and faster whirls the wheel. Others start to slide. Those of the fortunate inner circle dig in their fingers and try to hold on. One grabs another by the feet. No go. Away goes the bunch in all positions and to all points of the compass. No one gets hurt. It is great fun and they try it over and over while the multitude looks on shaking with laughter.

Get your SUNDAY AMERICAN early. Order it now and be sure to have it.

SPECIAL RATE TO CONVENTION OF NEW PARTY

CHICAGO, June 11.—At a meeting of general passenger agents of the Eastern roads in this city it was unanimously voted that for the National Convention of the Independence Party in Chicago, July 27, a rate of one and a half fares for the round trip would prevail. The roads west of Chicago will undoubtedly make a similar reduction and the lines leading to the South will follow the charge made by the Eastern systems.

This action places in effect a one and a half rate fare for the national conventions of the four big political parties—the Independence Party, Republican, Democratic and Prohibition.

The low fare for the big convention will be in effect for at least ten days and will be open to the public, bringing several thousand visitors here during convention week.

Large delegations are expected from all parts of the country to the Independence party's convention, special rates having already been arranged for from California, New York, Alabama and other points.

THRONG GARDEN ON HOT NIGHTS

Unique and very pleasant are the Clarendon Gardens, which have been opened for the eleventh Summer season, in the rear of the Clarendon Hotel, at Nos. 517-531 Tremont street. These attractive grounds are conducted in connection with the hotel by Andrew Anderson, the proprietor.

Brilliantly lighted and with an orchestra dispensing cheerful music, the garden is a most enjoyable place in which to dine and spend the evening. There is a seating capacity of about 200, and on warm evenings of the week they have been fully occupied.

Particularly well arranged are the grounds with large flower beds in the centre. Along the sides of the enclosure are large beds of plants, whose fragrance fills the air. The entire space is covered, so that patrons are protected from rain or the warm rays of the sun.

WANT MINERS' SIX-HOUR DAY

PARIS, June 11.—At the second session of the International Miners' Congress, at which the United States, as well as European countries was represented, a resolution was passed in favor of an eight-hour day, including the descent to and the ascent from the mines.

Where the temperature is excessive or there are noxious gases in the mines, the resolution reduces the day to six hours. The congress, after passing these resolutions, voted that pressure should be exerted in every country to make these hours legal.

JAP SHAFT TO RUSSIAN DEAD

PORT ARTHUR, June 11.—A monument to the Russian dead at Port Arthur was unveiled here to-day. The memorial has been erected by Japan. It stands at Antzeshan, in the midst of the graves of more than 14,000 Russians, who lost their lives in the defence of the fortress.

Thirteen memorials to individuals also were unveiled and dedicated at the same time. Detachments of Japanese and Russian troops took part in the ceremonies.

The Emperor of Russia was represented by General Gerngros and the Emperor of Japan by General Nogi.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

A Flesh Builder That Fills All The Requirements of a Cold Cream

DR CHARLES
Flesh Food
HEALING, NOURISHING AND BEAUTIFYING
ONE DOLLAR
DR CHARLES COMPANY NEW YORK

Wrinkles are caused by a shrinkage of the fibrous structure and tiny vesicles of the skin proper, and the collapse of the underlying tissue and its cells, which allows the skin to contract and form creases.

The only way to remove wrinkles is to remove their cause. This can be done by stimulating these tissues and feeding their cells with a specially prepared Flesh Food, intelligently massaged into the pores of the skin. This causes the cellular tissue to expand and the fat reservoirs to become full and develope, making the flesh firm and filling out the hollow places and wrinkles.

DR. CHARLES FLESH FOOD Is Specially Prepared for This Purpose

At the same time it is a dainty, satisfying toilet luxury that will not harm the most delicate skin.

It is a sure remedy for Hollow Cheeks, Scrawny Necks, Thin Shoulders and Arms as well as "Crow's Feet" about the eyes and Lines around the mouth.

Flabby, sagging cheeks and a double chin are a sure indication of advancing age, but by the use of this delightful preparation they may be rounded into a beautiful contour.

DEVELOPING THE BUST. For those who have lost the beauty of the breasts either through sickness or nursing, this preparation is unequalled for restoring them and making them large, firm and beautiful.

It is every woman's duty to herself to try Dr. Charles Flesh Food. It is to be obtained at all Drug and Department stores.

Jealousy and Idleness—A Talk to Wives

By WINIFRED BLACK

Winifred Black

I KNOW a woman who is jealous of her husband.

Every time the man is five minutes late to dinner the woman thinks he has stopped to see another woman.

The wife has nothing in the world to do all day but read novels and think up love scenes, and when her husband comes home from downtown so worried that he doesn't know whether he is walking on his head or his hands she's cross because he doesn't tell her how lonely the day has been without her.

If she could see the crowd of hangers-on that won't breathe until they've asked her husband about it she'd realize that he'd give a year of his life to get a chance to be lonely for a minute.

The man is a good, plain, sensible, every-day man, who would cut his right arm off at the shoulder to keep his wife from any real sorrow, but he hasn't time and doesn't know how to make love.

I wonder why his wife can't understand that.

Do you know what I'd do if I were that man?

I'd bring that wife of mine downtown with me every morning for six months; rain or shine, hot or cold, tired or rested, sick or well, downtown she'd have to traipse, and I'd make her help me do my work. I'd shove half of my worries on to her shoulders, and when she had been bored, and puzzled, and irritated, and driven to distraction by trying to talk to half a dozen people about half a dozen things at once, I'd sulk because she hadn't told me for half an hour that she loved me.

Six months of that sort of thing would cure the poor, foolish woman of that particular kind of folly, I'll warrant you.

What a lot of women waste their time being jealous!

The average man is just as faithful to his wife as the average woman is faithful to her husband.

The average man is too busy trying to pay his wife's bills to have time to fall in love with Venus herself, even if she sits at the typewriter in the same office with him.

Men get past the flirtation age very early if they have anything else to think of—and most of them do.

If I were a man and had a wife who was jealous without cause I'd make her go to work and get something to think of. An idle mind is the most fierce trouble breeder in the world. Get rid of it, Madam Green Eyes, get rid of it.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

A VERY POOR REASON

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am a young lady, nineteen years of age. Last Summer I met a young man one year my senior, who is rather well fixed as far as a living goes. This young man thinks a great deal of me; in fact, loves me. About the same time I met him he introduced me to a chum of his who is much handsomer, and whom I love, but from the way he acts toward me I do not think he loves me. Several of my friends have said that he is "making a monkey of me." Now, Miss Fairfax do you think it is better to accept the attentions of a man who loves you than of a man whom you love? I believe I could learn to love this first young man, and must confess that I love the other because he is handsomer. R. M. G.

THE fact of his being handsome is a very poor reason for loving a man. The man who loves you will make a better husband than the one you love. If you really think the latter is simply leading you on, you are very foolish to have anything to do with him.

Helps for Busy Housewives

Cover ink spots with clean lard, rub gently, and let lie an hour or more; wash in warm water and pure soap. This treatment will cleanse any garment, whether white or delicate colors, without injury to fabric or color.

* * *

All washable cotton curtains and draperies may be made fireproof by adding an ounce of sal ammoniac to the water in which they last were rinsed. The chemical is safe and inexpensive.

* * *

A walking suit of red linen is pronounced much smarter than one of white, provided it is worn by the person to whom the color is becoming. Made with a natty little bolero and worn over an ivory lace blouse it is a decidedly stunning costume. This particular shade is almost "brick," and is very distinctive among a host of white lingerie frocks.

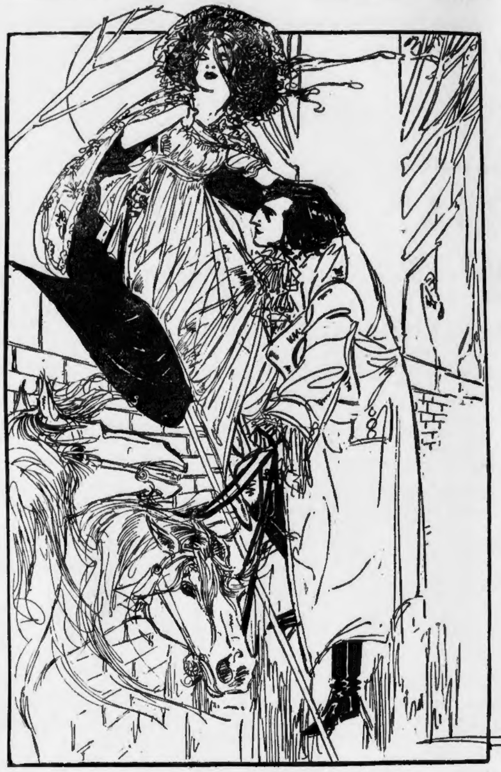
* * *

When ironing a starched garment and a part of it becomes dry, do not dampen with water, but with a cloth wet with a little cold starch. This will keep all parts of the garment of equal stiffness.

* * *

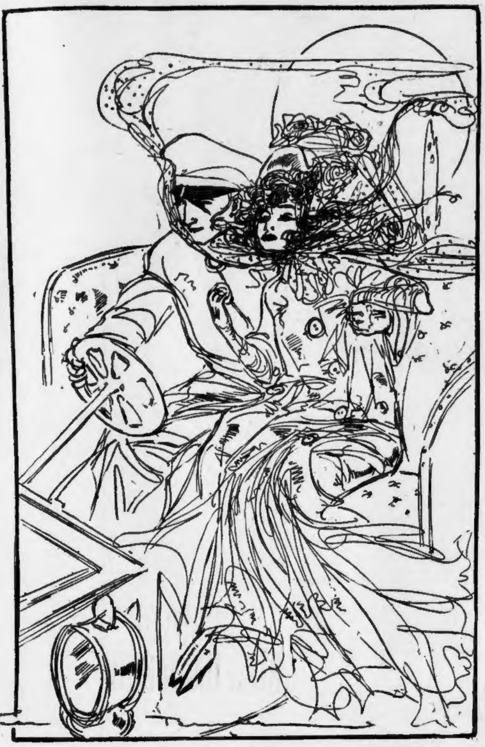
When starching lace curtains start from top to bottom, then front, as this is the heavy side and prevents the back from tearing.

A CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK---BY NELL BRINKLEY



THE "OLD BLOCK" A GENERATION AGO.

When the "chip's" father, the "old block," was a "chip" himself, he eloped with his bride, stealing her away at night in secret over the garden wall and hastening to the parson horseback.



THE "CHIP" HAS AN UP-TO-DATE METHOD.

The "chip" has a way that he thinks is better, and uses an auto, while the "old block," helpless to follow, storms and raves, altogether forgetting what manner of "chip" he was himself.

One Sign of Progress

Human Nature the Same, but Croakers Are Fewer

By KENNETT HARRIS

"YES, it sounds mighty pretty," said the Highly Practical Man to the Reformer, who was in search of funds. "If you could change the natural order of things, I haven't any doubt that you could make lots of improvements.

"It has occurred to me at times that if I had been planning the universe I would have made the world a much more comfortable place to live in. But I didn't plan it, and I can't change it, so I take things as I find them and make the best of 'em."

"That's exactly what we want to do," said the Reformer. "We want to make the best of things. We need a little cash to do it, though. Dig up!"

"Not one solitary dig," declared the Highly Practical Man. "It's throwing water into a sieve. If you get your legislation it isn't going to amount to shucks. You can't legislate men into a state of heavenly perfection. You're just wasting effort.

"The funny thing about it is that experience doesn't seem to teach you fellows anything. You talk about social conditions, and write books about social conditions, and lecture on social conditions, just as if they weren't exactly the same when they were mixing the mud for the bricks in the Tower of Babel."

THINKS HE'S THE WHOLE SHOW YET!
SAME OLD SILLY FOOL
GETS IN MY LIGHT JUST THE SAME
JOHNSON

It's just the same now as it was in the year 1.

The Same as in the Beginning

"Were they exactly the same?" asked the Reformer.

"Practically," said the Highly Practical Man. "A few changes on the surface, perhaps, but when you get right down to brass tacks there's no difference. It's always the same old sun and the same old moon and the same old stars, and it's always the same old human nature.

"The grass grows in the Spring and the trees shed their leaves in the Fall; it's cold in Winter and hot in Summer, and all the year around men rob and give, idle and toil, oppress and sacrifice, love and hate now as they did in the year 1, and they grumble and say that the world's getting worse and worse, or smile and believe it's becoming steadily better.

"You can't change it, though. What has been is, and what is has been in all the essentials of existence."

"There's no progress, then, according to your ideas," asked the Reformer. "We don't go forward?"

"We go forward like the wheel on a stationary engine," said the Highly Practical Man. "We misname progress persistently. One civilization has marble baths, and another, two thousand years later or thereabouts, tubs in steel, coated with porcelain and calls that progress.

Just One Sign of Progress

"Hood's seamstress drudged at her needle 'with fingers weary and worn, with eyelids heavy and red,' and the modern sweatshop toiler finds equal drudgery, equal poverty and equal misery at her sewing machine. That's progress—what!"

"That's one of the things that we mean to overcome," said the Reformer.

The Highly Practical Man smiled. "It's the turning of the wheel," he said. "You've always been meaning to overcome such things, and you've always been failing.

"Every generation has had its bunch of you, and yet every generation has seen the strong preying on the weak and the wise ruling the fools and the sun rising in the east. The arrangement may not be to your taste, but you can't alter it, take my word for it."

"I suppose," said the Reformer, "that is largely because ever since Adam was a little boy there have been fellows like you sitting back on your hind legs and croaking that it can't be done—that things always were in a devil of a way and consequently always will be.

"One great sign of progress that I've noted, anyhow, is that there are getting to be more of us and fewer of you."

How to Make Milk Safe for Children

SCIENTIFIC investigations have proved that milk in a raw state should never be given to children. Those who cannot buy pasteurized milk should pasteurize it at home. This can be done by observing these simple directions:

1—Bring the milk slowly to a boil, and when it reaches the boiling point bottle it instantly, cork tightly and cool it.

2—Never feed milk that is more than twenty-four hours old to an infant.

3—Keep the milk near ice, and never leave a milk bottle uncorked.

4—Cleanse and scald all bottles before refilling.

Careful observance of these directions will insure against babies contracting disease from impure milk.

The Manicure Lady

She Meets a Grouch and Gets a Light on Matrimony

By WILLIAM F. KIRK

"DEAR ME!" sighed the Manicure Lady. "I'm glad he's gone."

"Glad who's gone?" inquired the Head Barber, who was trying hard to take a nick out of a razor.

"That awful grouch that just got his nails did," replied the Manicure Lady. "Honest, George, I have spent many a day in this here business, days of sunshine and days of rain, but never have I run across a man with such a perfectly miserable temper as that feller that just beat the barrier.

"He was all to the acid. In the first place, he got on my nerves when he took his seat. 'This is a shaky chair,' he says 'and I am a heavy man. If the chair should break down, there would be me on the floor, and you giving me the laugh, after the manner of silly manicure girls. Why don't they have decent chairs for your customers?' he says.

"'The chair won't break,' says I. 'How in thunder do you know it won't break?' he demands. And that's the way our acquaintance started.

"'The minute I started on his first finger he let out a howl. 'Easy, easy!' he shouts. 'Do you think you are cutting the frog out of a horse's hoof? Do you think at all?' he snaps.

Even the Weather Was All Wrong

"I begged his pardon as nice as I knew how, but my nerves was working fine by now and I was all of a shake. 'This is a fine day we're having,' I ventures. 'What!' he comes back, 'do you call this a nice day? It's a rotten day. I never saw the humidity so humid. Look at my collar! A man that can live in this climate can live anywhere,' says he.

"'Are you going to the ball game?' says I, by way of saying something. 'Not on your life!' says he. 'What in the world makes you think I would go out to see a bunch of mutts like them Red Sox? I should think you'd have more sense than to dope out anything of the kind,' says he.

"'There's Unglaub and Wagner,' he says, 'getting good money and playing like Barbara Frietchie.'

"Honest, George, the way he went on was something red hot. I tried every way I knew how to get him good natured so he would give me a tip, but nixie.

"'Have you been to the theatre lately?' I asked him. 'Not on your Merry Widow hat!' says he. 'I'm too long in the league to fall for all these cheap attractions known as plays. Of course, he says, 'I used to take in a comedy now and then, but since dear old Pete Dailey is no more there ain't anything worth going across the street to see.

"'This is a rotten world, anyway,' he says to me. 'What's the use of trying to be happy when all around you, on every side, you see the awful goddess of Misfortune grinning down upon us mortals? As the great Southern poet, Kernan, once wrote,' he says:

"'"What is the use of it all, I say?
Why are we brought from a world unknown
To weep and dance through a little day
That drifts us under a burial stone?"'

"'Did you have anything this morning that disagreed with you at breakfast?' I asked him. 'Yes,' he said. 'My wife.'

"That's all he said, George, and I hurried his nails all I could, because there wasn't any living near him. Every time he opened and shut his mouth it sounded like a steel trap catching a rabbit.

"I don't see why people can't be more happy. We ain't here for long, and if we could get a good laugh once an hour I think life would be lots sweeter and pleasanter. Don't you, George?"

"Yes, I do," said the Head Barber, "but even when you get a laugh an hour there ain't much nourishment in the great cities. The fellow you was just talking about may have the right dope after all. I think the folks that is always cheerful have to stand for a lot of coarse work.

Why Women See the Bright Side

"If you don't snap at the landlord, or the tailor, or the grocer, they're liable to lay down on you for the full amount of the bill, all in a bunch. The nicer you are to the landlord the more he sues you when you break a lease. I ain't a grouch, but I'm learning."

"I don't think that way," said the Manicure Lady. "I was brung up to look at the bright side of everything, especially new silver dollars. My folks was frugal, and they taught me to take care of the small change and look for the big bank account later on, but they also taught me to enjoy life.

"My old man often says to me, 'Daughter, as Tom Moore once wrote, let us live by the way while we are beating it through life.'

"That's why I'm always cheerful, George. That poor grouch that just went out has my sympathy, George. Just because he had a scrap with his wife he made himself and everybody that talked to him feel miserable. Women ain't that way. I wonder why it is that women has such sweet dispositions?

"I reckon," replied the Head Barber, "that it's because they haven't got wives."

"I never saw the humidity so humid. Look at my collar."

The Rainy Day Girl Need Not Look Untidy

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am employed in an office with two other girls. One of these girls pretends to be a staunch friend of mine. Now, to be frank with you, I am a pretty well-dressed girl, but on rainy days, or cloudy ones, I dress in rainy day clothes; that is, clothes that can stand such weather. But I think I am justified in saying that I manage to look clean at any rate. Now this friend of mine, whenever I am dressed in "rainy day clothes," offers every excuse in the world when I ask her to go out to lunch or some other place with me in order not to go with me. Please let me know what you think of such a friend? When I am well-dressed she is perfectly affectionate to me.

A CONSTANT READER.

Beatrice Fairfax.

THAT is rather a pathetic little plaint, isn't it? The girl friend might justly be called a "fair weather friend," I think.

Of course, if she had any real feeling she would not care a rap whether her friends wore fine clothes or not; but she evidently is of the type that places great importance on the conventionalities and appearances.

At the same time there is no necessity of making one's self look dowdy just because the weather is bad.

Help Lighten the Gloom

In fact, if the day is gloomy and unpleasant, all the more reason why you should make yourself look trim and pleasant to look upon.

"Constant Reader" says that she at least looks clean. Well, that is, of course, of first importance, but why not look more than clean?

It would be folly for a self-supporting girl to wear her best clothes in the rain, but she can make herself look very nice without being in the least extravagant.

She can wear sensible, neat boots and a well hanging short skirt. A raincoat, or a coat to match the skirt, a fresh shirt waist and a trim hat and veil will complete the costume.

I have seen some very smart looking girls tramping along in the rain, and they were quite cheaply dressed.

Avoid Bedraggled Finery

I can tell "Constant Reader" this for her comfort—that it is much better to be shabbily dressed than overdressed in bad weather.

Thin shoes, draggled skirts and feathers out of curl make a sorry spectacle in the rain.

But it is a positive pleasure to meet a smart little figure all taut and ship-shape, with not a lock out of place nor an untidy thing about her.

Pay a little attention to your rainy day costume, my little wage-earners.

In sunny weather all the world looks pleasant, but in rainy weather we need all the brightness and beauty we can get.

Help to make beauty by making of yourselves pretty pictures.

BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Tomorrow's Best Bargains

Money-Savers for Thrifty Shoppers Selected by an Expert

A BARGAIN IN WOMEN'S HOSIERY may be had at the Gilchrist Co.'s store tomorrow, when one lot of their standard 25-cent gauze lisle hose will be offered for one day's selling at 19 cents a pair, or three pairs for 50 cents. These goods are fast black, made of strong lisle thread, are full fashioned, with high spliced heel and double sole, and may be had in all sizes.

ONE LOT OF BEAUTIFUL SILK PARASOLS that have been selling for $3 will be offered special at $1.95 to-morrow at Shepard Norwell's. This lot contains several handsome shades, in red, green, blue and pongee. Also an assortment of fancy silks with contrasting colored borders and polka dot pongee, with smart handle and heavy silk tassels, that are rare bargains.

THE JAMES A. HOUSTON Company have about three dozen feather-silk petticoats in black and colors that were formerly sold for $1.98, to be marked to sell Friday at 85 cents each. For every-day wear these are just the thing, as they are light weight and shed the dust easily. They are made with twenty-inch shirred flounce, with two small ruffles at bottom.

AS A "SPECIAL" FOR FRIDAY AT MacDonnell's Tremont Temple store about fifty hemstitched chiffon veilings one and one-half yards long, that always sell for fifty cents, will be marked to 39 cents each. In the lot there are light blue, pink, green, champagne, grey, brown, navy and black. This price is for Friday only.

SOME UNUSUAL BARGAINS IN A SEASONABLE coat for the small girl will be found in a lot of manufacturers' samples that Filene's will place on sale to-morrow. In the lot are beautiful little models in sizes from one year to five years, made of high grade P. K. and French repp, trimmed with deep hamburgs and hand embroidery. Also several serges in plain white and black, and a few beautiful embroidered lawns, made with silk drop, that would ordinarily sell for $3.95 up to $6.75, all marked to $1.85 for Friday's special sale. These are splendid values.

CONRAD'S STORE WILL HAVE ON sale to-morrow a special lot of waists, made of dainty striped lawn, with ring dot, that are very good values at $1.19. They are nicely tailored, made with wide plaits, double accordion plaited ruffle down the front and long sleeves with soft two-button cuff. All sizes in black, blue and tan stripes may be had.

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY will have on sale to-morrow a lot of ladies' two-piece jumper dresses made of chambray in all the popular colors, that will be sold for $1.95, reduced from $3.50. The waist is trimmed with white pipings and French knots, and the skirt is a full plaited model with bias fold. All sizes may be had.

JUST FOR FRIDAY AT Vorenberg's Novelty Shop on Winter street an assortment of buckles and belt pins in silver plated, gilt and pearl, that always sell for 50 cents, will be offered special at 39 cents each. There are some very pretty styles in plain and fancy designs in the lot that are really bargains at this price.

TO-MORROW AT THE BOSTON DEPARTMENT Store you can purchase some cushions for the piazza at a very small cost. They are made of Japanese matting filled with cotton and finished with heavy binding, and are a bargain at 23 cents. This is a special price for Friday only.

FIVE SOCIETY GIRLS BECOME BRIDES TODAY

Grandson of the Poet Longfellow Among the Grooms At Brilliant Ceremonies.

AT CHURCH AND AT HOME

Five of Boston's fairest daughters plight their troths to-day. Miss Mary Hunnewell, daughter of Walter Hunnewell and niece of Hollis, Henry, Francis and the late Arthur Hunnewell, weds Sydney Williams of the Union Club at her father's Wellesley estate this afternoon. Miss Elizabeth Coolidge, the first of the season's debutantes to become engaged and the first to don bridal attire, became the bride of Maunsell Schieffelin Crosby of New York at her Summer home in Lenox this morning. Miss Dorothy Goodale, daughter of the Alfred Goodales of Cambridge, marries Alliston Dana, Harvard '06, and grandson of the poet Longfellow, at her father's home on Coolidge avenue; Miss Ruth Pitkin of Marlboro street, and Joseph Chapman are wed at St. Stephen's Church in Cohasset, and Miss Catherine Sabine of the Vincent Club becomes the bride of Raymond H. Oveson, Harvard '05, in the Church of Our Saviour in Longwood.

Noted Debutante Success.

Miss Hunnewell was one of the chief successes of her debutante season. Her sister is Miss Louisa Hunnewell and her three brothers are Walter Hunnewell, Jr., Francis H. Hunnewell, 2d, and Arnold Hunnewell.

Mr. Williams is a son of Augustus Williams of Mt. Vernon street, and a graduate of Harvard in the class of '94.

After the ceremony, at which the Rev. [illegible] S. Meyer officiates, is an al fresco reception. There are no bridal attendants or ushers, and Mr. Walter Hunnewell gives his daughter in marriage. Her gown is a handsome white satin, trimmed with old family lace. She also wears a rich lace veil, a family heirloom.

The Rev. Harold Arrowsmith, rector of Trinity Church in Lenox, officiated at the marriage of Miss Coolidge and Mr. Crosby. The slender girlish bride wearing an imported creation of white satin and Duchess lace and a long lace veil was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Albert Leighton Coolidge, and had her sister, Miss Bertha Coolidge, as her only attendant.

John Hall Wheelock of Morristown, N. J., Harvard '08, a classmate of the groom, was best man, and there were no ushers.

A breakfast for the immediate members of both families followed the ceremony at the Curtis Hotel. The bride recently returned from a several years' sojourn abroad. Mr. Crosby, who graduates from Harvard this year, is a son of Mrs. Ernest H. Crosby (Fannie Schieffelin) of Fifth avenue, New York. The honeymoon will be spent in Europe.

Groom Grandson of Poet.

The university circle is especially interested in Miss Goodale's wedding to Mr. Dana. On account of illness in the bride's family the guests include only the immediate families and intimate friends.

The Rev. Samuel M. Crothers of the First Church, Cambridge, performs the ceremony; Miss Katherine Goodale is her sister's maid of honor and Richard H. Dana, Jr., of New York, Harvard '01, is his brother's best man. Henry W. L. Dana and Edmund T. Dana, Harvard '03, brothers of the groom, and Fairfield Goodale, Harvard '07, and A. M. Goodale, Jr., are the ushers.

Mr. Dana is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henry Dana of Brattle street. His mother was a Longfellow, her sisters being Mrs. Joseph Thorp and Miss Alice Longfellow.

Mr. Dana and his bride will spend the Summer at Manchester-by-the-Sea and in the Autumn will go to Missoula, Montana, to reside.

The Rev. Howard Key Bartow, pastor of St. Stephen's Church, Cohasset, assisted by the Rev. Henry Homar Washburn of Oyster Bay, L. I., will officiate at the wedding of Miss Pitkin and Mr. Chapman. The bride, who is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Pitkin of Marlboro street, and who is at present with her sister at their beautiful Summer home on Jerusalem road, Cohasset, was an interesting picture in white satin and enveloping veil of tulle. Her sister, Miss Martha Pitkin, is maid of honor, and her cousin, Miss Edith Pitkin, and Miss Gertrude Chapman Brooke of Germantown, are bridesmaids.

Pierce Archer, Jr., of Philadelphia, Princeton, '04, a classmate of Mr. Chapman, is best man, and the ushers include Alfred Ely, Jr., Princeton, '05, now at Harvard; Thomas Heidenbergh, Jr., and Eliot Brown of New York, both Princeton, '04; Clinton Meserole of Brooklyn and Donald and Charles Lewis Pitkin.

Mr. Chapman is a graduate of Princeton, '04, and of the Pennsylvania Law School, '07. After an extended wedding tour the young people will make their home in Philadelphia.

Harvard College Athlete.

Miss Sabine's wedding to Mr. Oveson is of much interest. Miss Sabine is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George K. Sabine of Brookline. The Rev. Reginald Heber Howe, the rector of the Church of Our Saviour, where the ceremony takes place, officiates. Miss Anna C. R. Dunn of Newport is the only attendant. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dunn and a sister of Dr. Charles Hunter Dunn of Marlboro street, Harvard, '96, and Robert S. Dunn, Harvard, '98. Harvard College is further represented by the ushers, William Oveson, Harvard, '11; William Sabine, Stephen Sabine of the '11 class; Robert Winsor, Jr., treasurer of the '05 class; Francis Colby and Norton Wigglesworth, also an '05 man. Samuel Neilson Hinckley of New York, secretary of Mr. Oveson's class, Harvard, '05, is the best man.

Mr. Oveson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Oveson of Osage City, Kansas. He played tackle on the university football eleven and was champion hammer thrower on the varsity track team. He belongs to the Pudding, Alpha Delta Phi, the Kalumet, Signet, D. K. E., Amphidon and Institute of 1770. He is just finishing his Harvard Law School courses receiving his LL. B. degree this commencement.

Three More Newsboys Capture Boston American Prize Money

Reading from left to right, the boys shown in the above photograph are Louis Karlin of No. 33 Lowell street, Boston, who sells AMERICANS at the North Station, in front of the Hotel Haymarket; Peter Rustein of No. 125 Brighton street, Boston, who sells AMERICANS on Newspaper Row, in front of the Globe Building, and Harry Hoffman of No. 247 Cambridge street, who sells AMERICANS at the North Station, opposite Canal street.

The BOSTON AMERICAN prize money contest is making a big hit with all the newsboys of Greater Boston.

The AMERICAN will give daily, until further notice, one crisp dollar bill to three boys, who come within range of the camera man with their AMERICANS held out for sale so that the name may be easily read from a distance.

Three have already been awarded the prize, and three more are on the list of winners to-day. The snapshot man is out again and three more will be photographed for the prize to-morrow.

Every boy who sells the BOSTON AMERICAN stands a chance of getting one of the prizes. The only requirement is that he must hold the paper out conspicuously, so that everybody can see what paper he is selling. The snapshot man, with a camera under his arm, is liable to start out at any time of the day, and there is no telling in what direction he will start.

Watch out, boys! Keep on the hustle and keep your AMERICANS right up where they can be seen. The winners of three more prizes will be announced to-morrow, and the smallest and youngest newsboys in the city stand as good a chance of winning them as the largest and oldest.

AIR FLIGHT FOR BANKERS.

NORTH ADAMS, June 11.—The Massachusetts Bankers' Association are here holding a two days' convention. A feature of the entertainment is a balloon ascension to-day by a New York aeronaut.

2 GLOUCESTER SHIPS DAMAGED

Dispatches received at Gloucester to-day state that two of the Gloucester fleet of fishing schooners met with accidents. The Ralph C. Hall, Captain Frank Hall master and part owner, went on the rocks at Micheux, Cape Breton. She has on board 220 barrels of salt mackerel.

The Athlete, Captain Leroy Spinney, put into North Sidney, N. S., this week, leaking badly, and was hauled out on a marine railway, where she toppled over yesterday, sustaining serious damage. The Athlete had three months' catch of 250,000 fish salted in her hold.

HAMBURG LINE TO CUT RATES

LIVERPOOL, June 11.—It was reported here to-day on what seemed good authority that the Hamburg-American Steamship Company had decided to reduce its Atlantic steerage rates, both eastward and westward.

DEGREE FOR HUB PASTOR.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 11.—Among the degrees conferred at the commencement exercises of Syracuse University was that of D. D. on the Rev. Bertram Martin Tipple of Stamford, Ct., and the degree of S. T. D. on the Rev. W. H. Meredith of Boston, Mass.

CHAPPLE TO QUIT SENATE

President William D. Chapple, of the Massachusetts Senate, to-day announced to his friends at the State House that he will not be a candidate for re-election next Fall. Chapple has been a member of the Senate for four years and president of the body for two years. He was in the House in 1897, 1898 and 1899. His home is in Salem. The fight for the presidency of next year's Senate now lies between Senators Shaw of Manchester, Stevens of Somerville, Spalding of Cambridge, and Jeuney of Hyde Park, with Shaw apparently in the lead.

TOWER TO QUIT PUBLIC LIFE

Special Cable to Boston American.

BERLIN, June 11.—Declaring that he would never visit Germany again, and apparently down-hearted over the failure of his diplomatic career, Charlemagne Tower, who has been succeeded as the American Ambassador here by Dr. David Jayne Hill, departed from Berlin to-day for Paris. "I shall withdraw from public life," said he to the correspondent of the BOSTON AMERICAN.

RUBY GILMAN DANCER'S BRIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Ruby Gilman, a sister of Mrs. W. F. Corey of New York, formerly Mabelle Gilman, the actress, was married to Charles Hagerdon at San Rafael.

The bridegroom is a dancer at the Chutes, where for some time past the bride had held the position of cashier. They will reside in this city.

Do you believe it? That a photograph of her eye will identify the murderer of this woman? See the SUNDAY AMERICAN.

SAYS ROBBERS STOLE BRIDE

SPARTANBURG, S. C., June 11.—W. F. Burns of Jackson County, N. C., while on his bridal trip across Panther Mountain, in Greenville County, says he was robbed of his pretty wife by a gang of six men after he had been bound, beaten and robbed.

He and his wife stopped at a cottage in the mountains, and during the night the men entered the room of the couple, attacked Burns, and took his wife down the mountains. He says he has not seen her since. The authorities are investigating.

WHOLE WORLD OF SPORTS COVERED FOR THE BOSTON AMERICAN BY ITS CORPS OF EXPERTS

HARVARD CREW BEST IN HISTORY

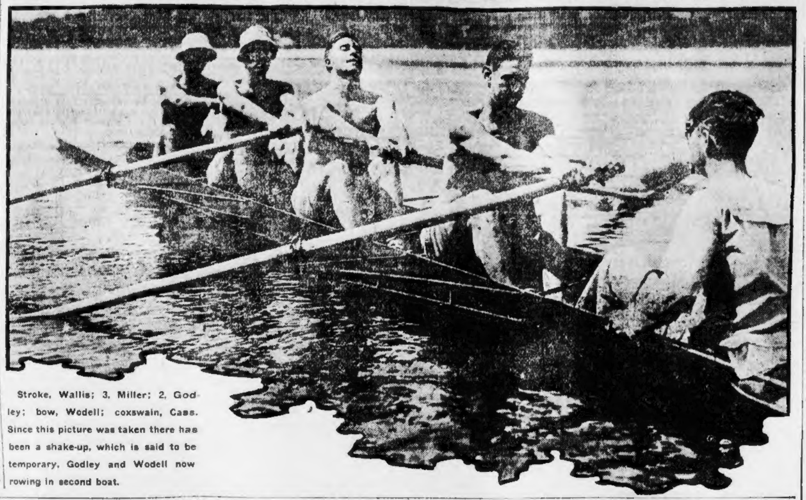
NEW LONDON, June 11.—George St. John Sheffield, one of Yale's staunchest supporters of boating, declares that Harvard is fifteen seconds faster this year than she was a year ago. Mr. Sheffield says:

"Harvard has the strongest crew in her history. No one who has seen the Crimson eight row this year has any doubt on that score. The practice spins in which I have seen Harvard row and the results gained by Harvard in the two races which she has rowed all prove this. Harvard has easily defeated Cornell and Annapolis, two of the best eights in America.

"She has come to the Thames fifteen seconds faster than either the Yale or the Harvard eight of last year. There was no practical difference in ability and speed between the Yale and Harvard eights of last season. They finished only a few yards apart. Therefore the Harvard crew of this year is fifteen seconds faster than both the Yale and Harvard crews of a year ago. We will concede that Harvard has made that important and unusual gain in speed. Has Yale done so?

"Harvard is so confident of winning, justly so, naturally and logically so, and the cold fact remains that Yale, to be able to win from Harvard must send upon the river June 25, an eight which can overcome that fifteen seconds improvement which we know Harvard has made in her eight."

YALE VARSITY FOUR, PICKED TO BEAT HARVARD CREW



Stroke, Wallis; 3, Miller; 2, Godley; bow, Wodell; coxswain, Cass. Since this picture was taken there has been a shake-up, which is said to be temporary, Godley and Wodell now rowing in second boat.

JACK JOHNSON MAY MEET MARVIN HART

LONDON, June 11.—Jack Johnson, the American colored fighter, has given up all hope of getting a match with Tommy Burns. Burns has refused every proposition to fight Johnson.

The National Sporting Club has offered a $7,500 purse for a fight between Johnson and Marvin Hart, the Kentucky scrapper, to take place in September. After this fight Johnson will follow Burns to Australia in a further attempt to get on a match with him.

Another fight between Burns and Jem Roche is likely. The sporting syndicate headed by "Dick" Croker, former Tammany leader, which backed Roche before, believes that the Irishman was insufficiently trained for his first go with Burns, and is willing to put its money on him in a second bout.

JOHNSON CLAIMS TITLE; OFFERS BURNS A CHANCE

Sam Fitzpatrick, manager of Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight, who has claimed the world's title, sums up the Johnson-Burns situation very ably in the following. The letter is taken from the London Sportsman, the leading English sporting journal:

Sir—We have now been in England four weeks doing our best, as you and your readers know, to force Tommy Burns, who claimed the world's championship, into a match for that title and a big side stake. The British public know full well that we have placed no obstacle whatever in the way of Burns, while on the contrary he has been doing his best all along to put forward difficulties which at the time he knew quite well could never be surmounted. More money—in fact, considerable more—has been offered Burns than he ever fought for in a genuine contest, in addition to which we have promised him backing up to £3,000. There is no bluff in this statement, for the money is at hand at any moment; as I write, Mr. Bettinson, of the National Sporting Club, holds £1,000, which is lodged with him to prevent any get out on the part of Burns or any jealousy among newspapers, and this, as I have said, can, if necessary, be increased to £3,000.

Burns has repeatedly stated that he is out for the money, and bearing this in mind we are prepared, in the hope of drawing him, to bet him odds to his stake, and we will wager him £3,000 to his £2,500, and, further, Johnson will agree that the winner shall take the whole of the £2,500 which the National Sporting Club are prepared to give. I would like to remind Burns and his friends that in doing this we are making overtures to a champion, anyway, one who claims that title, and I would at the same time ask any sporting man if such a thing has previously been known in the history of the ring.

Now, in order to show—though the explanation is hardly necessary—that Burns is doing his utmost to side-step Johnson, let me draw attention to his proposed match with Bill Squires, which is scheduled for June 13, in Paris. It is almost unnecessary to say that Burns has already beaten Squires in less than one round; therefore, why a second match, if not for the purpose of gaining time or furnishing a stop-gap. Then we come to the alleged offer from Goldfields, which is the second obstacle put forward by Burns to evade a match with Johnson. A week has elapsed since this astonishing cablegram was read to the public, and yet, strange to say, it has got no further than the stage at the Holburn Empire.

I have made inquiries in all directions respecting this particular message, which should if the affair is business and not bluff, have reached either Johnson or myself. Up to the present, who knows anything about it? Therefore, we can put the Goldfields business down as bunkum, which Burns knows it to be.

The agony is still being piled up, for the next thing that appears is the offer of a purse for Burns to box Lang of Australia. Is this a move made to get Burns out of England, and, having chased him to this country, is he going to give us the scent on a trail to Australia? I would like to say that Johnson has already defeated this same Lang in very easy fashion. Taking all this into consideration, I ask, where do the honor and glory come in for Burns to meet beaten men and to travel 10,000 miles to fight one of Lang's calibre? I would suggest before he leaves England that Burns have a return match with Jem Roche, who appears quite as much entitled to another go as Bill Squires. Statements to the contrary notwithstanding, Johnson, as can be proved, has had money posted with the Evening Journal of New York for the past six months to bind a match with Burns. His stake is, as I have said, now up in England, and Burns makes no response.

In face of all this there is surely no question as to who is to-day the genuine champion of the world. Johnson is, as he has been all along, prepared to box, and Burns fails to come forward. There is, therefore, only one inference to be drawn, which is that Burns is afraid.

From this date I therefore feel justified in claiming the championship for Jack Johnson, who, I may add, is ready to defend it at all times and against all comers, giving Burns the first chance. Yours truly,

SAM FITZPATRICK,
Manager for Jack Johnson, Champion of the World.

AUTO ROAD RACE AT LOWELL WON'T BE HELD THIS YEAR

BY J. C. KERRISON.

It is understood on the best of authority that the sponsors of the 250-mile road race proposed for Lowell on July 4 have deemed it advisable to give up the idea of holding the same on the date originally intended. At first given every reason to believe their efforts to secure such a contest would receive the united support of Lowell citizens the committee went ahead and was making preliminaries for a big event. Then obstacles arose on every side. The policing of the course was but one of the many handicaps placed in the path of the committee, but even that was all but overcome when the committee suddenly discovered another obstacle; namely the procuring of the closing of the roads for the day in question. The Mayor's veto of the measure to close the roads after it had passed both branches of the City Government was, of course, virtually the death blow of the scheme, on top of that comes the news that the selectmen of Tyngsboro, who at first believed in the road race, had called a meeting of the citizens to consider the proposition. This in no way helped matters. Considering all things it is said the committee has decided to abandon the idea of holding a road contest of this length at the present time. Last year Lowell held a series of road races on the boulevard course, but it is not considered as likely that the experiences of a year ago in that direction will be repeated, especially in view of the great obstacles which arose against the holding of a lengthy contest.

* * *

Since there will probably be no event of local interest on Independence Day it is quite possible that the touring committee of the Bay State Automobile Association may arrange for a run of the club members on July 4, and 5. A meeting of the committee will be held in the very near future.

* * *

Experience is an efficient teacher, and there is rich instruction for the novice in studying the succession of cars owned by those who have means. It is significant, for instance, to find departments of the city government installing for economic service the highest-priced car there is in the market, as four of the New York city departments have done, the latest being the fire department, which has bought a forty-horsepower American Locomotive car for the use of Deputy Chief Lally. In presenting his claim to the Committee on Public Letting, Deputy Chief Lally said that "owing to the high speed necessary in going to fires, it was essential to have a car perfect in every part and built to withstand hard driving over all sorts of roads." This certainly marks an increasing wisdom in motoring mechanics.

CORNELL NOT ABLE TO GET HIT OFF HARTFORD

Ralph Aronson, the crack right fielder, knocked out a home run in the fifth inning yesterday, which gave Harvard a victory over Cornell in their annual game at Soldiers' Field, 1 to 0.

Outside of the good batting of Aronson the feature of the game was the pitching of Hartford, who didn't allow the Ithicans a hit. He fanned twelve men.

During the game the Crimson team had men on bases in five innings and on third base four times, but the batters were unable to bring them in. Three times Captain Leonard got around to third by good base running and base stealing, but was left there with a man on second each time. At no time were the Harvard men asleep on bases, as they have so often been accused of this year, and at no time did they make anything that would be taken in any way as an error.

Gable pitched well for Cornell, although he struck out only three men and allowed four men to walk. He was given good support, and thus several of Harvard's hits were taken away from them. For Harvard Hartford's feat was made possible by his excellent control and the good support he received. At third Leonard played a fast game. In the first inning he caught a hot liner right off Caldwell's bat that looked like a sure hit.

NEWARK CLUB MAKES BID FOR LAPORTE

NEWARK, June 11.—Manager Stallings yesterday started pulling the wires with the Boston American League Club for Frank Laporte, who graduated to the American League from Buffalo four years ago. Laporte has been doing bench duty the greater part of this season for the Red Sox, owing to the fine showing of Harry Lord at third base and of Ambrose McConnell on second, and if Manager McGuire will consent to part with Laporte, Stallings will grab the player and delegate him to a position in the Indian infield.

Another player Stallings expects to secure before long is Nill, the Cleveland infielder. Nill was promised to the Big Chief last Spring by Manager Larry Lajoie while the Naps were training at Macon, Ga. Owing to a series of accidents that befell members of the Cleveland team, Lajoie was compelled to hold on to Nill.

It is not believed that Manager McGuire would let Laporte go. He is needed on the Boston team, both as a utility infielder and as a pinch hitter.

KID STINGER BEATEN.

NEW YORK, June 11.—In a fast fight at the Whirlwind A. C., Harry Ferns, a local boxer, gained the decision over Kid Stinger of Philadelphia. The lads were at it hammer and tongs all the time.

SULLIVAN SURE YANKEES WILL WIN HONORS

NEW YORK, June 11.—James E. Sullivan, secretary of the American Olympic Committee, sailed for England to-day on the White Star liner Baltic and will remain in London until after the close of the athletic events in the British Stadium, which will be about August 1. After Mr. Sullivan reaches London he will look into the arrangements already made for the team's training quarters. If the location is not suitable a better place will be found somewhere near the scene of action. The Olympic secretary said that he was glad to get away to rest for a while.

For the last six months or so Mr. Sullivan has worked untiringly on the preliminary details of the trip, and it was anything but plain sailing. There were plenty of unpleasant episodes. Talking on the team's prospects and other matters of moment Sullivan said:

"I think we will win the point honors of the Stadium, and the prospect that I'll be there to see this pleases me. It will be my last effort in the athletic team line and if ever America should go again for foreign honors somebody else will have the honor of piloting the boys. Do I expect to be on the field among the officials? I do not, and I'll tell you more, that I don't expect to see any other foreigners there no more than myself. The English officials will run that meet themselves and they are well able. If the Olympic officials from the different countries are present—and there will be twenty-three nations represented in all—they will be sitting in boxes nice and comfortable watching the games. The English Stadium will be a clear case of no buttersin need apply.

"The team will stay together at one hotel, and if that proves too small we intend to hire another. The boys will not see London or the sights till the games are over. Then I intend to do a little sightseeing myself. I have planned to see Ireland and to go to see Maurice Davin, father of the Gaelic Athletic Association and one of the athletic curiosities of the present generation."

ARTILLERY TEAMS MEET.

This afternoon the coast artillery baseball championship will be played off between the Fort Revere and Fort Banks nines at the new Crescent inclosed grounds at Revere. Much interest is manifested in the outcome of the game as it will not only decide the championship, but a purse of $800 will go to the winner.

AMATEURS WILL HAVE FIELD DAY

Amateur athletes will have a chance to compete at the annual field day of the Division No. 6, A. O. H., at Locust Street Grounds, South Boston, on June 17, when the following events will be open to all registered athletes: 100-yard dash, 600-yard run, mile run, three-mile run, running high jump, running hop, step and jump, or two running hops and and jump, putting 16-pound shot, mile team race. All events are handicap excepting the team race.

Gold watches will be awarded to winners and gold and silver fobs to seconds and thirds. Entries close with John A. Ryder, No. 362 Broadway, South Boston, June 18.

Y.M.C.A. GAMES AT RIVERSIDE

The Massachusetts and Rhode Island Young Men's Christian Associations will hold their grand athletic meet and water carnival at Riverside Recreation Grounds on June 20.

At 9:30 a. m. the boys' scratch championships will be held, and in the afternoon the tennis champs and the sixth annual outdoor handicap games and water sports.

Entries to the athletic events close with W. B. Durand, No. 167 Tremont street, Boston, June 12, and those in the water sports with J. P. Roberts, Y. M. C. A., June 12.

BLACKBURN AND O'BRIEN DRAW

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—By great fighting in the fifth and sixth rounds Jack Blackburn got a draw with Jack O'Brien in their bout at the National A. C. last night. O'Brien lead in the other rounds.

At the weighing in, O'Brien tipped the scales at 162 pounds, while Blackburn pulled down the scale to 147½ pounds. He also towered over the negro in height, and his advantage in reach looked to be entirely too long for Blackburn to get away from.

TUFTS ELECTS HUBBARD.

Carl P. Hubbard '09 of Woburn has been elected captain of the Tufts track team. Hubbard is without doubt the best track man that will be left in college for next year.

ALL THE CREWS OUT FOR WORK ON THAMES

HARVARD TRAINING QUARTERS, Red Top, Ct., June 11.—The Harvard freshman four-oar went over the first mile this morning for a tryout. They did the first half mile in 2m. 55s., and the full mile in 5m. 47s. They started out with a pretty high stroke, and they kept it up well, although near the finish some of the men appeared to be a bit fagged. Under the conditions which existed this morning the time was rather slow. They had the wind and tide with them all the way.

The university four paddled over their two-mile course, doing the first half-mile in 2m. 58s.

The big shells went down river as far as the naval station and back, but there was no attempt made to speed either of them. Wray did his coaching from his single shell. The freshman eight appeared to better advantage in this morning's work than they have at any other time since reaching Red Top. The squads are all in splendid physical condition and the best of spirits.

ENGLISH HIGH LOST TO LATIN

For the first time in twenty years Boston Latin defeated their old rivals, Boston English High, at the Locust street grounds, South Boston, yesterday afternoon in the Boston High School League series by the score of 5 to 3. Everett and McKenna were the opposing box artists. The former had the better of the argument, but was given poor support at times.

TAILORS' CLEARING HOUSE.

DON'T BE A READY-MADE MAN

GEORGE'S, 14 Summer St., BOSTON,	GEORGE'S, 259 W. 34th St., NEW YORK,	GEORGE'S, 101 S. 15th St., PHILA., PA.

SACK SUITS
$15, $18, $20.
CUSTOM MADE FOR
$40, $45, $50, $60.

Our special offers this week of 247 Sack Suits, at $15, $18, $20, which were custom made for $40, $45, $50 and $60, tells of the values you obtain here. The difference between our prices and those the tailors expected are readily explained. When the tailor after making garments to order, has them refused or uncalled for, the prices he expected to get disappear. His desire is to convert all such garments into quick cash and the quickest and easiest way is to send them to us for sale. As the CLEARING HOUSE for 1,800 tailors, GEORGE'S of 259 WEST 34th STREET, being overstocked, has sent us these 247 garments for quick sale. Low prices are the lever with which we move them rapidly, so that while formerly marked $18, $20 and $25, they are now $15, $18, $20. In business you cannot defy conditions. But you can meet them. This is what we are doing by offering 247 suits at reduced prices and giving those of Boston with modest means the opportunity of securing high class tailor-made garments. GEORGE'S TAILOR PARLORS, 14 SUMMER STREET, Near Washington. Open Saturday night.

CITY OF BOSTON.

PROPOSALS FOR COAL—The Trustees of The Boston City Hospital will receive sealed proposals for supplying the Hospital with 1000 tons, 2240 pounds to the ton, of semi-bituminous steaming coals of the best quality, free from slate or dirt, either Georges Creek Cumberland coal, Big Vein mined in Maryland, New River coal, Pocahontas coal, or other bituminous steaming coal of equal quality, free from excess of sulphur, slate, moisture or dirt. Bidders must specify the name and location of the mine from which the coal is taken and furnish an analysis indicating as closely as possible the following:

Moisture .... %
Volatile matter .... %
Fixed carbon .... %
Ash .... %
Sulphur .... %
100

The relative values of the different kinds of coal offered will be considered in connection with the price. The price per ton delivered shall be further corrected for percentage of total sulphur in excess of 1.25%. Two (2) cents per ton shall be deducted for each quarter of one per cent. (0.25) of sulphur in excess of one and one-quarter (1.25) per cent. Coal found to contain less than one and one-quarter per cent. shall receive a premium of two (2) cents per ton for each quarter of one (0.25) per cent. that the sulphur falls below one and one-quarter per cent. The value of the coal to be paid for shall be determined on a basis of 13,800 British thermal units per pound of coal delivered. If coal is found to contain more or less British thermal units per pound than 13,800, its price shall be proportionately increased or decreased. Coal containing less ash on a basis of dry coal than nine (9) per cent. shall receive a premium of one (1) cent per ton for each half (0.5) per cent. that the amount of coal falls below nine (9) per cent. An increase in the percentage of ash of one (1) per cent. over the standard herein established will be permitted without exacting any penalty. For ashes in excess of ten (10) per cent. there will be a deduction in the contract price as follows:

10 to 11% .... 2 cents per ton
11 to 12% .... 4 cents per ton
12 to 13% .... 7 cents per ton
13 to 14% .... 12 cents per ton

Coal found to contain in two out of the three following particulars more than the following percentages based on dry coal, viz.:—

Volatile matter 25%
Sulphur 2%
Ash 11%

shall be deemed of inferior quality and the contractor shall be subject to a penalty of twenty-five (25) cents or more per ton according to the degree of inferiority which it shows. Coal shall be tested by the Hospital; the contractor or his representative may be present during the sampling.

Bids in addition to the above will also be received for 1000 tons, 2240 pounds per ton, for supplying the Hospital with No. 3 Buckwheat or Anthracite Wharf Screenings, or Pea coal and dust. Bidders will state as nearly as possible the percentage of ashes contained in same.

Coal to be delivered alongside the coal pocket, Roxbury Canal. Bituminous coal to be delivered not later than July 7th, 1908. Screening, Pea coal and dust, or Buckwheat to be delivered within fifteen (15) days after the notification to do so.

Proposals must be made on printed forms to be obtained at the office of the Superintendent of the Hospital not later than June 15th, 1908, at 12 o'clock noon, at which time and place the proposals will be publicly opened. Each proposal must be accompanied by a properly certified check for $500.00 and a bond will be required for the faithful performance of the contract. SEALED PROPOSALS for the collection and removal of store dirt, house dirt and ashes in the East Boston District (as shown on the official map on file at the office of the Superintendent of Streets) will be received at the said office of the Superintendent of Streets until 12 M. of FRIDAY, June 19, 1908, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read. Bidders must reside in or adjacent to this district. Said ashes to be collected and removed at least once each week, to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, and to be delivered at dumps to be provided by the contractor, the contractor will furnish the carts and the necessary horses and men. Form of contract may be seen at the Central Office of the Street Department. The contract is to cover a term of two (2) years, dependent on the proper appropriations from time to time by the city government, or unless a different system of collection is adopted. Said proposals to state the terms for collection and removal per year. Each proposal must be accompanied by a properly certified check for $100, and a bond will be required for the faithful performance of the contract. The Superintendent of Streets reserves the right to reject any and all proposals, should he deem it for the interest of the city to do, and to give preference to the proposals of bidders agreeing to pay the trade unions' rates of wages. GUY C. EMERSON, Superintendent of Streets, Boston, June 10, 1908.

Mrs. Sage, the Rhododendrons, and Providence's Wonderful Way

Mrs. Sage Will Leave the Earth More Beautiful and Men Happier. She Is to Be Congratulated and Envied

Copyright, 1908, by American-Journal-Examiner

In Central Park, in New York, many men are at work covering a mile of bare ground with beautiful rhododendron bushes.

The black earth from the swamp has been brought to make a comfortable home for the roots of the bushes. The bushes are nearly all planted, many of them are covered with beautiful blossoms.

This is the work of Mrs. Russell Sage. She noticed the stretch of bare land along the park driveway and offered to make it beautiful at her own expense. The city consented gladly, and Mrs. Sage by spending fifty thousand of the dollars left to her by her husband has added one mile of beauty to the people's park.

This is one of many intelligent, public kindnesses that testify to Mrs. Sage's noble character and practical understanding. When she gave money to public employes, she selected those that were old and that needed encouragement.

Now, in planting this mile of flowers, she has spread beauty before the millions that visit the park. Long after she shall have left this earth, when her very beautiful character shall have faded, as those flowers fade, they will come out in fresh blossom each year, reminding the world of a good woman, WHO LEFT THE WORLD MORE BEAUTIFUL THAN SHE FOUND IT, giving comfort to tired workers and inspiration to young minds.

We have fortunately in this world many rich men and women competing with each other IN WISE, BENEVOLENT SPENDING OF THEIR MONEY. These public philanthropies mark a great step forward in the human race. Formerly men who piled up money and power spent the money in self-indulgence, used the power in oppressing others, and at the end, in a mean, contemptible, sordid way, goaded on by superstitious fear, tried to buy for themselves individual salvation in the future.

Now, instead of squandering money shamefully in a lifetime, oppressing the poor, and trying to buy exemption after death, our rich men and women compete with each other, living, as to which SHALL DO THE MOST FOR OTHER LIVING HUMAN BEINGS.

Mrs. Sage has been especially successful and intelligent in the use of the great fortune that her husband left her.

Nothing is more worthy of a good woman than this latest gift to the public, although it is a small gift compared with others from her.

The real work of human beings IS TO MAKE THIS EARTH MORE BEAUTIFUL, A BETTER HOME FOR THE HUMAN RACE. The only thing that men possess IS THIS EARTH UPON WHICH THEY STAND AND FLOAT THROUGH SPACE..

To make the earth more beautiful, healthier, more fruitful, is, next to increasing human knowledge, the greatest work that men can do to help the future. The time will come when vast wealth and power—possessed perhaps by individuals like Rockefeller, rather LET US HOPE BY THE WHOLE NATION—will do on a big scale what Mrs. Sage has just done for that stretch one mile long in Central Park.

Some great man or great nation will achieve permanent glory on this earth by reclaiming the Desert of Sahara, or our desert lands in the West, or our great swamps in the South.

Already the nation is doing this work in a limited way, as our appropriations for irrigation remind us. It is only a beginning.

Eternal wisdom guiding us, the wisdom that directed us and mapped out our career when life first appeared on this planet, shows forth in all that happens. It is interesting now to look at that mile of beautiful flowers in Central Park, and to think whence it comes. You see a thrifty, money-accumulating, money-loving man many years ago marrying a kind-hearted young woman, a school teacher.

To-day you find the man gone, a vast accumulation of wealth marking the spot where he worked. And you find the woman whom he married inheriting the wealth, and displaying in the use of it the same womanly feeling that impelled her as a girl to take up the educating of children.

As a young girl she taught the children, the boys and the girls, and gave her affection and care to them. Now, an old woman, she teaches others how to spend money wisely, as she spends hers. And the love for other human beings shown in her work as a teacher is proved now in her adorning of a public park, and in her many other charities.

Truly, there is no need to be pessimistic in this world, when you see Russell Sage's great fortune changed into beautiful flowers and beautiful charities, when you find the accumulations and the savings of a half century of frugality scattered lavishly, but wisely, in the declining years of a kind-hearted woman.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED

All persons who are ready to help form a new national party that will not be controlled by the trusts and the professional politicians who are in the service of the TRUSTS are requested to send their names at once to the secretary of the Independence League, at No. 348 Old South Building, Boston.

This notice applies to all persons who are not already formally enrolled as voters in the Independence League primaries.

It is important that names be sent in at once. The secretary desires to obtain a new and more complete list of the persons in Massachusetts who voted last Fall for Thomas L. Hisgen and of the voters in other States who are in sympathy with the new party movement.

Citizens who are sufficiently interested in this patriotic work to give a little of their time to the cause are especially requested to fill out and mail the following blank:

Secretary, Independence League, No. 348 Old South Building, Boston.

Dear Sir—I would like to help in the work of establishing the new National Independence party.

My name is..

My address is..

Among my friends who, I think, feel as I do about this matter are the following:

Name ....

Address ....

Paste this blank at the top of a sheet of paper and add names and addresses of all persons whom you know who believe in the new party movement.

At Theodore's Convention

By James J. Montague

THE Allies came down like the famished coyote
Drops in on the jack rabbit out in Dakoty,
And they swore that they'd hammer as flat as a raft
The boom of a spherical party called Taft.

AND howled they for Fairbanks, and howled they for Knox,
And flocked they for Cannon in jubilant flocks,
And boosted they Hughes with full many a boost,
It was any old man to push Taft off the roost!

LIKE a lordly buck turkey along in July,
That crowd strutted forth when it landed in "Chi,"
Like the selfsame buck turkey on Thanksgiving Day,
That crowd surreptitiously vanished away.

FOR the sheathless big stick of a-sudden jarred loose
By way of effecting an amiable truce,
And crashing and lashing and smashing about,
Kept busy till all of the allies were "out."

A DEEP dented cherry alone marked the spot
Where Fairbanks had been, but where now he was not,
While Hughes's vacant chair was disclosed to the view
By an unfinished speech and a whisker or two.

OF Knox there remained not a word he had quoth,
Of Cannon survived but a feverish oath,
And from Lake unto Packing House none could descry
So much as the smoke of a single ally.

OH! the sovereign citizen still has his say
In the Nation's affairs in this glorious day,
Providing, of course, that the man he is for
Is also the choice of his nobs, Theodore!

The tyrant is dead, but not tyranny.—GERMAN.

When Matrimony Can Do Without Love

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Copyright, 1908, by American-Journal-Examiner

"IS it right or sensible," asks a troubled father, "for my daughters to refuse eligible offers because they do not love the men who seek them as wives? Is a deep passion absolutely necessary to a happy domestic life? I want to see my girls settled, and I have little patience with the view they take of this matter. What is your opinion?"

I would need to know the young women before I could tell the father my view of the matter.

Long ago I learned that there was no one law for all womankind or mankind in affairs of the heart.

For the women of "temperament" a marriage without an ardent passion would be hell upon earth. It would be immoral and a crime against her higher self.

For the phlegmatic, or unemotional woman, affection, or even respect, would be quite enough to render her reasonably content in marriage. The diamond needs a setting, but the pebble is better without it.

I know a beautiful girl who had no capacity for any passion in life save fine clothes and travel and society. She could not love any human being as she loved these things. She was poor, and mad with ambition. She married a senile old man with millions.

It was not a sacrilege, for she obtained the only thing on earth she desired—the only thing which could give her happiness. She would have wrecked the life of any young, loving man without a fortune.

As it was, she did her duty by the senile old man and enjoyed herself immensely. The marriage was a travesty on real marriage, but she was a travesty on real womanhood, so it was fitting.

I have known a dull girl, with no imagination and no emotions, to marry a good, quiet, domestic man for a home, and make an excellent wife in the housekeeping sense, and an ideal mother and nurse.

Again, I have known a romantic girl to marry a man she did not love because he was so desperately in love with her, and to become infatuated with him after marriage and "live happily forever afterward."

But this is a dangerous experiment.

The woman who has a dream in her heart and an ideal in her soul should not be forced into a marriage which is uncongenial. If she has sufficient intensity of feeling and power of concentration, she will in time find her dream coming true—her ideal realized.

Such a woman's love on an island in mid-ocean would magnetize a passing ship and bring her rightful mate to her, as the bit of ore attracts the steel.

The woman who is full of love will never go unloved through life. Time, circumstance, fate, cannot keep her from her own.

Real marriage means real mating.

It means uncontrollable attraction between two people of opposite sex—an attraction of body, mind and spirit.

Nothing and nobody can separate them but death.

There are only a few such marriages, because there are only a few men and women capable of an absorbing, intense passion.

The woman who realizes that she is capable of such a feeling does well to wait for the man who can arouse it—before she becomes a wife.

But the human lump of dough, or putty, or chunk of lead, may marry for other considerations than love and break no law. The world has many such marriages, and the contracting parties help to keep the world jogging along.

BATTLES

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

Copyright, 1908, by American-Journal-Examiner

BATTLES, and wars, and combats—man with man,
Striving for place, supremacy and power.
Not since the first dim dawn of life began
On this small sphere has peace reigned for one hour.
Battles, forever battles.

WHY should we marvel? In that heart of thine
Has peace been known to fold its wings and rest?
Ah, no! Two natures, human and divine,
Wage always war within the mortal breast.
Battles, forever battles.

WARS, wars, unending. Not in open field
Are fought the mighty conflicts of the earth;
But in the secret hearts of men, concealed
By lips and eyes, tricked out in smiling mirth.
Battles, forever battles.

STRIFE, always strife. Wild passions day and night,
Like billows, bruise the breast, and surge and roll,
While that unending war of wrong and right,
Desire and aspiration wear the soul.
Battles, forever battles.
